A Face with the Name

I have wondered--- does anyone have a photo of Faye Harris? I have always wondered about what she is like and of course what she looks like. I wonder who this person is and where she is. I have read her nice entry on the forum and she seems kind, decent, and kind hearted. I was trying to put an image with the name. Are there any pictures of Dusty with Faye? 🌹

Terri, I believe it's now widely known that Faye Harris is actually Sue Cameron. In fact, even at the time of DWD it was known, so why she chose to try and hide her identity was just plain strange. She wrote on a fan forum at the time of Dusty's death using her own name.

This photo has been posted before here somewhere. I believe it belongs to Ralph, and he has shown it to Nancy.

There's also a photo of them in DWD.

A photograph of Sue Cameron/Faye Harris appeared in UK hardback edition of DWD. It was opposite page 182 and showed Dusty sitting at a drum-kit with Sue standing beside her. The photo is captioned:

Los Angeles 1972: Dusty shows off her snare skills to Hollywood Reporter's Sue Cameron.

Thank you very much- I did not know any of these detail. So there really isn't a "Faye Harris?" I am glad I have been updated. Anyway-she seems to be a very special person. Again- thanks for educating me!

I love that photo. Sue's really pretty and they look good together 🍋. I think Sue was definitely one of her better choices of partner. I love reading her blog too - v showbiz! www.cameroncolumn.blogspot.com I believe.

Some more Sue Cameron reading for you - her two very 'Hollywood' novels Love, Sex and Murder and Honey Dust. Read them... they will make you blush 😊😳😳
