BANDSTAND - Australia

Liz made me think of this with that autographed photo she posted for my birthday.

At the end of this show (Australian Bandstand) Dusty signs her autograph "Thanks and Love, Dusty" BACKWARD on a transparent pane.

How does she do this ? Is it a trick with the camera ? She does it like there is nothing to it. Very fluid.

Did she practice ? Who's idea was it to do that. Can I find the answer in Paul's CDS ?

If you haven't seen it's quite remarkable. Frans do you have the scoop on that one ?

And writing with her left hand also??? She must have practiced hard, or it's her party trick! 🎉

I never thought to ask about that Cor. So, Dusty was right handed, or ambidextrous ? Does one of us know for sure ?

I always thought she was a genius in disguise, so it's easy for me to believe she had atypical language organization in the brain. 🧠 As Frans' Wiki-link says for some people it comes quite natural.

I'll answer for Cas Maria, that's Lesley Duncan with Dusty and in the background, the blonde lady you can see is Kay Garner. All three lovely ladies no longer with us 😞

Thanks for the information, Carole!

Oh, I know that Lesley Duncan and Kay Garner have passed away 🌹 but I didn't know what they look like! 🙏

Really sad that they are all gone now 🌹 🌹

Hi All

I know that this is a bit late as I don't always look at everything on the site.

Well I was with her in Sydney (1967) when she did this show.

Hope I'm not telling tales out of school.

A couple of possible way they could have done this.

Firstly

You would of had a sheet of glass mounted on a frame which Dusty signed.

Underneath this mounted glass you would have a mirror either directly under the glass or angled slightly which is what you filmed. Being in a mirror it would appear that she was writing with her left hand. She was right handed.

Secondly.

It was one of the tricks you could do with film. There was no video at the time as we know it and this show would have been done on Kinescope (film) or may be Quad tape which was new then. The fore runner to U-matic machines which was before Beta and VHS home machines.

Kinescope was really film and one thing you can do with film is either play it backwards or forward just like a projector.

Now if turned the film over when you loop it on to the machine it would look like she was left handed also putting in backwards would make her look left handed.

You could also make the writing disappear by putting it in reverse at the same time.

They were very sneaky in those days.

I wish I was still in touch with Ray Newell who was the director I could have asked him.

I hope I haven't bored y'all

Glad you got around to giving us a first-hand take on this topic Dougie.

🤔 I'm still trying to wrap my head around this illusion, or not.

Dusty looks like she's game, and having real fun with it.
