I think I have the first part down:

I wanna control you
I've been a fool for far too long
I wanna control you
show my need is just as strong
wanna control you
my obsession can't be wrong
gonna fight with passion and fire

and then the 2nd section of the first verse starts to lose me:

My weapon's in motion
????? (sounds like "It's a black list sensitive")
I got a notion
such a simple recipe
?????? ("bring in the lotion"??? 😞)
?????? ("it's a sparkling fantasy") gonna take you higher and higher

this is crazy! 😞

not only is this one of Dusty's few songwriting credits, if I'm not mistaken this is the only song in her entire career that she received sole producer credit on. Someone's gotta have the lyrics! 😊

AAARRRRRGGGHHH!!!! 🙄

Helen, I think we've hit a wall.

in the film, Jumpin' Jack Flash, there's a scene where Whoopi Goldberg is repeatedly playing the Rolling Stones song, trying to decipher the lyrics.

She finally gives up and says "Mick! Mick!...speak ENGLISH!!!!"

i'm about at that point.

i've got a very hodge-podgy list of what the lyrics might be. I'll type it out in a few days, and perhaps folks may have suggestions on changes? (I hope so).

Dusty's not exactly in the best voice on it, but something about this track is so appealing to me (the production, maybe?).

There's something about this track that is appealing to me too...

I can't figure out the words she's singing either.. 😞

Since I have some difficulties in understanding English I thought the problem was due to that.... 😊

I have been listening again to I Wanna Control You but I'm afraid I'm finding it just as difficult to decipher Dusty.

Maybe we could ask the songwriters!

Besides Dusty's lyrical contribution the song was written by Jess Bailey and Diane Schnitzer There is a songwriter Jess Bailey on Myspace but I'm not certain it is the same one.

Interestingly I found out there are an albums worth of copyrights written in 1985 by Diane Schnitzer with Norma Tanega!

I'm afraid I haven't heard the songs Cor, I just found them listed as copyrights here.

http://www.faqs.org/copyright/i-pretend ... ont-touch/

I'm not sure if any of them were ever recorded, I would guess just as demos, I wonder would Dusty have chosen some of them to record if had she made an album in 1985.

The titles co-written by Diane Schnitzer and Norma Tanega were

Lush In the Temperate Zone
You Can't Have It Both Ways
Hey, Clive
Mother Of Pearl
Ordinary Spice
Androgyny is killing me
I pretend that we're not strangers
Breakaway heart
Steady or not here is my attempt, I've just put question marks where I can't make out the lyrics at all.

I know some of it doesn't sound right, but maybe if we combine our versions we can come up with the right lyrics

I wanna control you
I been your fool for far too long
Wanna control you
Show my need is just as strong
Wanna control you
My obsession can't be wrong
Gonna fight with passion and fire

A weapon's in motion
It's a black list ??????????????????
I've got a notion such a simple recipe
Burn field in motion
It's a sparky fantasy
Gonna take you higher and higher

Your eyes will ?? the paradise up above
Your body when it turns and I go under your spell
I regain my senses, I've learned my lesson so well
????????????????? you
I need to utilise my plan
Gonna incite you just to play a burning game
No ultimate pleasure
I know you'll never be the same
Gonna make you worship the ????

So come on and hurt me some baby
I bet you didn't know that I like it like that
Come on and hurt me some baby
Your mama didn't tell you 'bout women like me

????????????????????????????????????
I'm gonna tell you how to use them on me
????????????????????????????????????

My eyes will ??????????????????????
My body will???????????????????????

You have told your senses
Now I got you under my spell, oh baby
You're gonna want the things I do
To give ?????? to the moves I make on you
You can't deny me anything I want , want from you Gonna give into my ??????????????

I wish You Love

Goodbye, no use Leading with our chins, this is where our story ends

Never lovers ever friends.

Goodbye, let our hearts call it a day, but before you walk away,

I sincerely want to say. ..

😊 Yes, don't make yourself vulnerable. 🟢

The saying is rooted in the sport of boxing.

You always guard your chin. You keep your chin tucked in. Guard it with your right, and lead with your left.

Never drop your guard. Never lead with your chin.

Chances are if you stick your chin out there somebody's gonna hit it real hard. 🟡

Someone posted about Diane Schnitzer in another thread so I went looking for those lyrics and found this one. Has the mystery been solved since 2010? Haha

I found some info on Jess Bailey here: <http://www.feltcomposition.com/composers/jess-bailey-graeme-> perkins/ and emailed the contact person, Steve, to see if he or Jess can help us out. Here's hopin' I hear back with good news.

In the meantime... I'll take a stab at those mystery sections. There are so many possibilities, I considered breaking it up into syllables and just spelling them out phonetically. We'll call this a "Choose Your Own Adventure" interpretation! Haha. My friend says I'm hearing things and connecting all the wrong dots. (I have a feeling Dr. Bosseh could narrow her research in on this one song for loads of data!) I included some close-matching absurdities too because if I don't laugh about this, I might blush to death. 🤩

So first, I want you to watch this:

Okay, testing my aural skills 🤩 faintly hysterical giggles... 🤩

I wanna control you
I've been your fool for far too long
I wanna control you
Show my need is just as strong
I wanna control you
My obsession can't be wrong
Gonna fight with passion and fire

A weapon's in motion
It's a blacklist (you're touching? Is a blacklist star touchy? Something that ends in '-togy'?)
I got a notion
Such a simple recipe
Perfume (?) , emotion
Is to spark your fantasy
Gonna take you higher and higher

Your eyes...
full of paradise up above
Your body...
when (you/you're/we're) (touch/down) (and/-in' /town) I go under your spell
I'm regaining my senses
I've learned my lesson so well

Ooh, I wanna relight you
I need to utilize my plan
Gonna incite you (reeeeeally sounded like "gone inside you" at first listen 🤩)

Just to play a burnin' game.
And I want so much pleasure
I know you'll never be the same
Gonna make you worship the fire, ooh, ohh

So come on and hurt me some, baby
I betcha didn't know that I like it like that
Come on and hurt me some, baby
Your mama didn't tell you 'bout a woman (but sounds more like "bwamly"...whammy?) like me (Love y'all / Love your(s)) (some / so) (come up the / come home and / coma I'm / call me an) (attic / add it / adding / addict?) ...I have no idea.
I'm gonna teach you how to use it/'em on me
Devices to make me ecstatic

My eyes
Full of (you, then / youth and) lost at the (love / luck / look)
My body's
(wet and slidin' / whale ass slidin / way less lighting)
(you're the one, love / you're to wonder / you're gon' wan-na / you don' wan-na)... chill
You must hold your senses
(Lover / Love, I) got you under my spell

You're gonna want the things I do
So give yourself over to the moves I make on you
You can't deny me,
anything I want, oh from you
Gonna give in to my desire

(in the outro)
Oh, do me. Come on and do it to me, baby, baby.

I've been curious about these lyrics now too, so I did some digging around and found a contact for a Diane Schnitzer. I gambled and sent an email stating that I was searching for the lyrics to this song. I asked "are you the writer, and if so, can you help"? An hour later I received this email...

Diane Schnitzer 5:36pm Mar 18
Yes, I am.

Who are you , and why do you want them?

I explained a bit about the reason for asking and invited her to look at LTD-- so she could see we are a good bunch of people. Haven't heard back yet, let you know if I do....can't say we all haven't tried. 🙄

I have Maggie again to thank for her example of courage in sending probing emails out into space! 🙄🙄

Ok, Ms Schnitzer did email back to me. She was very nice and informative, but would prefer not to add any additional information and values her privacy as is understandable. She gave me permission to post her replies so everyone could share in the "story behind the song".

Diane Schnitzer 10:36pm Mar 18
Well, Connie,

I originally wrote that song while Dusty was staying with me in L.A. previous to going to London. Four months into our stay, She needed a "B" side to her new single, but by that time, working with Peter Stringfellow at Hippodrome Records became a real strain, so she asked if I would rewrite the bridge with her, so we could make it quite naughty, to say the least, as a slam at Peter. Singing it so that it was almost impossible to understand some parts was intentional, so that it could still be legally released. In addition to that, while we were recording that song, Whitney Houston and Clive Davis were in Studio A, to our Studio B, and they were making her video to "Saving All My Love For You", and draining all the power from our studio, while every time we put the cans on our ears, all we could hear was Whitney, so we stormed her studio and stopped her production.all in good fun because Clive was a friend of Dusty's and Dusty knew Whitney and her mom. It was very funny.

That's all I'm offering you, as I intend to keep the lyrics a mystery. I promised Dusty.

Just know this.they are quite "Fifty Shades of Grey" in nature.

Have fun and use your imagination.

Out of curiosity, where do you live? In the US, or in the UK?

Diane

I will post her second reply next... Stand by 😊

The second reply, came after I explained what LTD does to support Dusty's charities, and keep flowers at her marker so she knew of the sincerity of our wish to learn all we can about Dusty. And to keep Dusty's memory and music alive for others to discover. Also how protective we all have felt towards her memory. I hope I didn't overstep myself in doing so, it just felt right to let her know that.

Diane Schnitzer 2:59am Mar 19

I don't mind you sharing this story, but I do want my privacy protected. I have no desire to fill in the blanks for anyone who wants to profit off of the "I knew Dusty best" circus, and that's why I am careful. However, I am assured you and your friends have no such desire.

I think what you all do to help with keeping her site respected and in good condition is wonderful, and I am very well acquainted with Pat and Simon.

Don't worry. Dusty's voice will never fade away and no one will ever really sound like her, though many try.

Here's the last response...

Diane Schnitzer 3:10am Mar 19

By the way, the lyrics to I Wanna Control You were written by me, with only a few words in the bridge added by Dusty. Jess had no part in it, other than working on the melody with Dusty and me, but Peter Stringfellow wanted half of the publishing rights, and the other half to Jess, because he was once with Spandau Ballet, along with Dusty, because she was Dusty. and I was no one. I was a little miffed, but figured it would never really matter and I've never gotten a dime from it. Too bad the "A" side, Sometimes Like Butterflies, never had a chance.

That's it, another "hand of Dusty moment"?

What another FANTastic anecdote from Dusty's friends in the US.

My, PS was really only interested in the £s and $ he could earn- nobody else mattered. Thank God Dusty eventually got away from his "circus". We should be thankful that she had a bolt-hole in the States otherwise he could have been the ruin of her, however strong she was. Maybe it was as well that "Butterflies" never succeeded. No to PS - Yes Yes Yes to PSB.

Thanks Connie and Diane.

Thanks Cas, Pat and Darren for you kind remarks. Thanks of course to Markus for starting this interesting thread, and to Clive, Helen, and Kristin for coming up with most of the words. Your guesses are as good as it will get, and you all did so well. 🙌🙌

Diane's answer reminded me of the Rolling Stones song, "you can't always get what you want", -- but if you try sometimes, you may get what you need. 😊 I think we got another great example of how intelligent Dusty was and how she used humor to get the better of those who tried to "tell her how to do" what she was such an expert at-- more than those in control were anyway! Looks like Tarra was right, Diane was/is "one of the good ones".

Hands up anyone who would have liked to have been there when Dusty and Diane were sitting around coming up with ideas! 🙌🙌🙌

Hi Connie, Yes I would have liked to have been a fly on the wall when Dust and Diane wrote the additional lyrics to "Control". I think PH (the bible) quoted "a little White Heat" went into the lyrics. I always call "Donnez Moi" the naughty song as if your French is good (or you google) then you replace "Baise Moi" with "Baise vous" you will know exactly what Dusty/Diane thought of PS.

I hope I haven't offended anyone. Sorry if I did.

I can live with that kind of reply. 😊 I think the story behind the hard-to-understand lyrics is just as good as knowing what they are. And it's always nice to meet another loyal friend committed to honoring Dusty's privacy and memory. (I'm also kinda glad the naughty lyrics I was "imagining" didn't get shot down as embarrassingly wrong. 🙌)

Thank you Kristin, I'd be willing to bet you got a good bit correct -- not sure about the "whale ass slidin" though! 🙌 Diane said to "think 50 shades of gray", so some of the "aggression" parts might just fit! 🙌 I agree with you that it no longer matters what the exact words are, when you understand that Dusty was figuratively giving Stringfellow the two fingered salute, it makes it all the more satisfying to listen. 😊 When I first read Diane's emails, I thought of Tarra saying Diane was one of the good ones. I hope Tarra will get a chance to read this, I think we'd all love to hear her thoughts.

Thanks again for your kind response!

🙌 That was a great read ! It made me feel great as I often make up new words to popular songs as I thought I heard them, or might have heard them, and they're usually a little randy. 🙌 Your becoming quite a charger Connie. Nice work ! That's how it's done. Sometimes you just gotta say, "What the f _ _ !" What's the worst that can happen ? They just say no or bugged off. If you're convincingly genuine, and not after the buck then chances are good you'll be accepted.

Would loved to have been there when Diane, and Dusty busted in on Whitney Huston. 🌟 🙌 🌟

I think it's great that Diane was so reticent to give out information without knowing who we were, she more or less had told Paul the same story for the Complete DS. Almost like she checked back through her emails to make sure she wasn't adding anything else! I like that she doesn't want to compete with the "I knew Dusty best" brigade too, I'm sure there a plenty of those around, we had a few on here in the past 😊

Good attempt with the lyrics there, they'll maybe always remain a mystery now, except to Diane.

I wanna control you
I been your fool for far too long
I wanna control you
Show my need is just as strong
I wanna control you
My obsession can't be wrong
Gonna fight with passion and fire

A weapon's emotion (A weapons in motion)
Is a black list such a tear
I've got a notion, such a simple recipe
Burn filled emotion
It's a spark of fantasy
Gonna take you higher and higher

Your eyes will look at the up above
Your body when it turns and I go under your spell
and I regain my senses, I've learned my lesson so well

If I live without you, I need to utilise my plan
Gonna incite you just to play a burning game

It's faster than maybe it's sad thing.

My eyes will look at the love that's alive.....
My body will enjoy your love

You have told your senses
Now I got you under my spell, oh baby
You're gonna want the things I do
To give us a moment to the moves I make on you
You can't deny me anything I want, want from you gonna give into my desire Oh

Oh baby

I wanna control you
I wanna control you

I wanna control you ahh baby

I wanna control you.

Connie, thank you SO much. 🙏 Not the answer i was hoping for, but it is nice to know Diane has that kind of feeling about Dusty, respecting privacy and avoiding exploitation. 🌹

I do wish she had released the other lyrics (the verses) and simply omitted the "naughty bridge". 🙏 we're still stumped on the "clean" verses! 🤔

c'est la vie... 🙏

Cross-posting the link to the "misheard lyrics" thread to show what this song has led to. Pretty ridiculous:

I have a few ideas for next year's DD buttons is all I'm sayin'.

😳 I'm the type of person who when a comment is made on any given topic, gets an instant "visual". 😳 I can't tell you how often this has given me nightmares, but I digress. I decided long ago, "why should I be the only one who sees these things"? 😊 😏 Why not share? The only snag I've run in to is that it often puts my sanity in question! 😳 then I think, too bad for them if they can't take a joke! 😊 🙄 Besides, it's all Kristin's fault for her transcription anyway. 😳 😏 f a

Don't talk to me about insanity! 🤪🤪 There is definitely something wrong with me, but I like it - so who cares?

🤪🤪 (Once I photoshopped Kenneth Branagh's face on a beetle. To this day I can't remember why, but I can't unsee it... 🤪🤪)

Anywaaaaay...

Kenneth Branagh's face on a beetle? Seems perfectly reasonable to me! 😊 you may not remember Telly Savalas, a bit before your time and part of American TV ---- however.... 🤪¹

I'd better behave or the off topic thread police may have to step in. I'll be going now. 🤪🤪

Re: Does anyone have the lyrics to...

Oh god... 🙏🙏 Yeah, I know Telly Savalas 😊 I've seen some of his films.

Yes, back on topic! I love the story behind this song, I can't listen to it without laughing! 😂 Connie, you're a star for chasing up the lyrics. ⭐ Dusty was so funny and clever and I love how she's purposely left a little mystery behind. 😊 Good on Diane for respecting her memory and keeping it a secret. 🌹 😊

It's wonderful that someone really thought enough of Dusty to respect her privacy and keep a few secrets. That's what makes a true friend. ⭐ 🌹

Hi Young Dusty.

I Wanna Control You is the "B" side to "Sometimes like Butterflies" a single which Dusty recorded in London 1985 for the ill fated association with Hippodrome records owned by Peter Stringfellow. It also appears on the compilation album "Heart and Soul". Dusty was never happy with the recording which was the first of many she made of "Butterflies" but in his ignorance Mr S decided to release her first attempt, which if you have heard it her voice is not at its best especially towards the end. "Control" lyrics are mostly inaudible, which I think many agree was our Dusty's protest about the whole situation. The Hippodrome label disappeared.
