Are there any other color pictures of Dusty with her natural hair color? The only one I've seen ( not counting the pageboy wig) is the springfields album cover.

I can't say I like Dusty with red hair - to me she was always blonde...in fact THE blonde 🤖

Yes Brian, I agree, Dusty was lovely as a blonde. The album cover I have shows her hair to be a very rich, deep auburn an absolutely gorgeous shade-- it's quite striking-- I just wondered if there were other pictures as the one on the album is small. There is an artist whose work I've seen who has developed a way to colorized iconic black and white photos, and it's fascinating how different they look. Love to see what he could do with some of Dusty's photos, blonde or red! I believe the Dailymail online had an article about it. 🤖 --C

Hi, I'm brand new to the forum, but a little while ago I colorized a Dusty picture (in a few different versions). Last night, I read this thread & decided it was about time I joined. So I put up this page just for LTD folks:

<http://www.kristinsedivec.com/DustyColorPhotos.html>

(I apologize in advance for the long-winded explanation at the top of the page. It was 3am. 🙄)

Enjoy!

Hi, I enjoyed your post! I am terribly guilty of long posts, but as long as I'm learning it's all good to me. I loved the photos and want to give you a new "assignment" 🙄

Welcome to LTD! I'm new too and having a great time! Connie 🌟

You're a genius with Photoshop, Kristin! That must have taken hours! Looks great as your avatar as well. And isn't it indeed unfair that the Dusty TV series (and so much else) happened in colour, and all we have left is b/w? I envy the audience of that time! Norma Tanega used to be in the control room when the shows were recorded. Who wouldn't have loved to be there?

I think Dusty would approve of your colouring. On her interview with Des O'Connor, on YT, she said she would liked to have air brushed etc, photos. She probably was never satisfied with her own pictures, even studio portraits.

What you've done is great, even the pink! Now just "Dusty at the BBC" ! Shouldn't take long!!

Thxs again. Patx

Thanks, Pat. I just watched that Des O'Connor interview and I'm beaming with pride right now. 🙌

When asked what she would've done if she hadn't become a singer, Dust says:

"I wanted to be a land girl, you know 'working on the land', 'til I discovered what time people had to get up... So that was over... Or I'd like to retouch photographs. 'Cuz I think people, including myself, are so insecure about the way they look in photos. Imagine sitting there and, you know, doing all this stuff and making everybody happy. That would be great. That's really hard to do." 🙄

So surrrre I'll colorize the entire BBC series... 🙄 Nooo problem. Including the sketches, duets & guest artists that aren't on the DVD? Yeah, totally. Frame by frame. Got it. ...And how 'bout I fake some of the lost footage, while I'm at it? 🙄

Seriously though, Cas, you have a goldmine of quality black and white photos on your site that I'd love to work on. Little by little by little by little by little. It's a good thing I'm a night owl, too. (And that I have really good headphones that I can crank to 11.)

Here you go, Connie: <http://www.kristinsedivec.com/dustycolorphotos.html> I based the hair color on the darker auburn pictures and that bubble gum pink lipstick appears in almost all Springfields pics. It might not even be bright enough in my version. Haha. But who knows, their early albums may have been colored in post too. The saturation is so high, it's hard to tell.

This may have been asked before, but how old was she in this picture. She looks like a movie star; it's really a nice picture of her. I know her makeup was one of her trademarks and she felt insecure without wearing a lot, but I don't think she needed it that much. In many of the early pictures of her it looks like she was blessed with really nice peaches and cream skin. Also, I think she had really nice facial features which is easier to see with less makeup.

Re: Red hair

by oboe93

If you guys keep stroking my ego, then I'm going to have to keep making these! 😊 Well that, and the fact that it's really fun.

Here's a new one I picked because I love the color of that outfit, and I also love detective work. I used a smaller color photo for clues and one clue was the PEG on an album cover on the floor. Since I knew one of Dusty's influences was Peggy Lee, I google image searched her album covers and sure enough, that cover is "all aglow again," which came out in 1960. I colorized it accordingly. 🍀

That portrait was made because Dusty (Mary at the time) needed a display picture when she performed in London supper clubs. She started doing that around the age of seventeen so I'd say that's a good estimate of her age in the picture.

Ooh, great idea Connie! And getting back to the original point of this thread. But I suppose I'll just have to guess with the rest of the color for those. They're more complex. I took some high res photos of some of my other favorite early ones from Dancing with Demons, so I'll keep 'em coming. Yes, of course I own that. :) Errr... borrowed it from my bff ...and he's not getting it back. ;)

As far as a new thread, I was wondering about that, too. Is it okay if I just put them all on my own website and post the link so they're all in one place?

If it's renamed it simply has a new name. If it's moved, it's just put in a different category. Nothing would be lost.

We could always amend the title of the thread e.g. Red Hair (and colorized B/W Dusty photos). 😊

Or just let it be. Most important thing for me is that Kristin keeps posting the photos. 🙌

Oh good God. I forgot about this one. It will be done.

I'm never going to get any actual work done ever again, am I. (I'm a tattoo artist and use Photoshop constantly for designs. I'll offer tattoo work to anyone, or their friends, who pays my airfare to Dusty Day. Just sayin'... ) 😬

Well I cant pay your airfare LOL, but you may just be able to help me with this 😬

I'm baaa-aaack.

I thought the first shot in this series was so damn cool that I removed the watermarks, enlarged & colorized it. Then I thought the curtain should be a different color, but I couldn't pick just one, so I made a gif. Votes on what the real colors might/should be?

Pop ya collah.

Baby blue for me.

That pic is a scorcher! 🙄👍

That is one of the greatest pics of Dusty, and so cool to see it without the writing and in colour. Blue for me too. 🙄👍

Just a thought shouldn't the shirt be a dark green???

Aww, thanks for sharing that screenshot Frans! Neat to see it in Dutch, too.

Like this, Nancy? The 1st one has the same background coloring as the original. The 2nd is brighter and warmer, but now after staring at these for so long, I can't tell if just looks overexposed and loses detail. Anyway... blue. Aries birthstone and my favorite color. :)

Tangent: In high school, I played Merryweather in the 1st ever stage adaptation of Disney's Sleeping Beauty. Mary Costa, the original voice of SB came to 3 of our performances! So the first 3 weeks of March 1999, I was running around fighting pyrotechnic dragons in an old blue puffy prom dress waving around a conducting baton that I painted with glitter nail polish while shouting "Make it BLUE!" True story.

Oh shit. The shirt's green? Really? Well I can make things green, too.

Do you have a picture showing the actual color? I just have this other B&W one from DWD. And this other color one looks very similar but was labeled "tour 1964". Help!

It really is appropriate that this picture thread stayed under the category "Getting It Right". I have more questions than pictures by now and a folder full of ones I want to get to. It's driving me nuts. 😊 But I can't stop. I'VE BECOME ONE OF YOU. 🙄

For those of you bothered by loose tassles and wisps of hair and things, you'll notice I've taken the liberty of removing that one dangling ribbon. For the purists out there, uhhh.... did you see the fekkin' flashing rainbow gif I made? I keep laughing every time I look at that post and realize how goddamn gayyyy that is, even for me! Haha. Maybe Nancy can have it projected behind her every time she presents her dissertation. Or am I just... projecting...? *crickets*

Anyway, here goes... Make it pink! Make it blue! Make it GREEN! :

Looking at that it does look more black than green so maybe not? I haven't found the photo I was thinking of as I forgot to look! I will see if I can find it. Perhaps they are two completely different shirts?

The shirt is definately black. If you zoom in on the small one you'll see she's in all black.

Awesome. Thank you, Maggie. I was hoping so because I liked the composition of the black shirt more anyway. But I guess I could make her hair redder and it looks like her lipstick was still more pink in '63.

You mean Dusty on the roof, Kristen, or something else? Suits a gay icon, dykon, doncha think? 😊 Off topicish but another book for your reading list is From the Closet to the Screen which is the story of the Gateways club in London. TTFN.

Wait... wha..? For your presentation, I was referring to the flashing gif I just made of this pic with the curtain changing colors. I was kidding because that would be very distracting during the entirety of your presentation, for several reasons. Dat whotcha meant? Thanks for the book recommendation! At some point I'm gonna just ask you for a course packet. :)

As for the rooftop pics, does anybody have a large version of the barefoot one where she's sitting? It would be nice to complete the set.

Just caught up on this. Gorgeous! One of the rare times when Dusty wore black.

Thank you Maggie that solved that then and I was wrong. Sorry for the confusion.

I had a good look through my files this morning and the one I was thinking of does have a slight greenish tinge to it, but I think thats just age! It changed back to black when I scanned it!

I have a slightly bigger version of the one you posted Maggie.

Hehe. "Ever since we met you've had a HOLD on me!" How on earth did she sing that song on top of a rickety ladder without falling off?! It's not exactly a quiet ballad.

These pics are great Cas! Looks like that curtain is boring dingy white, after all. Oh well. On to the next!

I'd been meaning to get to this one for quite a while, and then Maggie sent me a bigger, higher res version of the B&W. Thanks, Maggie! Here ya go!
