Year it happened--

Does anyone know the year that Dusty had to get the surgery from the horrible incident with the pan? I was curious about the photograph comparisons. It was written that it was bad plastic surgery in some books, but although it changed her a bit, I do not think it was a bad job- she still is remarkably pretty as she aged. She indeed looks different from the nose down, but I am unsure if her nose was surgically altered.

Dusty did have her nose altered. Other matters perhaps too upsetting to discuss on the boards.

@Cor-
based on events that occurred prior to the incident, and the ensuing period of inactivity, I'd say it was 1983...

 Whatever the details it looks like she chose the rhino surgery only as a companion to the surgery she was forced into by those ultra personal, and tragic events. (Had to be between 83/84.) I wonder who she confided in to recommend the Doctor/Clinic to do the procedure. Good thing it wasn't the guy who did Michael Jackson's nose.
