I cannot tell you how much I LOVE the video for Nothing Has Been Proved!!! The colors, her expressions & when she twirls Oh My God, I wet myself! Two things: Without going to a lyric sheet, does anyone know what the hell she is saying? Secondly, as I implied, I think it is by far her best Video! I don't know if it has been done, but if not, how 'bout you list your fave! Love, Keith

Without quoting the lyrics, it's basically a song about the Profumo Affair, a political scandal that hit Britain in 1963.

So were you wondering more what the song was about or more about the words? I don't understand.

Here are the lyrics.. sometimes it makes a bit more sense when you know what the words are, although sometimes not!

Mandys in the papers cause she tried to go to spain
Shell soon be in the dock and in the papers once again
Vickis got her story about the mirror and the cane
It may be false, it may be true
But nothing has been proved

Stephens in his dressing-gown now, breakfasting alone
Too sick to eat, hes on his feet and to the telephone
The police inspector soothes him with his sympathetic tone
It may be false, it may be true
But nothing has been proved

In the house a resignation
Guilty faces, every one
Christines fallen out with lucky
Johnnys got a gun
Please please mes number one

(its a scandal! its a scandal! such a scandal!)

Now, stephens in the dock for spending money that was earned
By christine, and the prosecution says that money burned
A hole in stephens pocket, for expensive sins he yearned
It may be false, it may be true
But nothing has been proved

In the news the suicide note
In the court an empty space
Even mandys looking worried
Christines pale and drawn
Please please mes number one

(its a scandal! its a scandal! such a scandal!)

Last night he wrote these words to his friend:
Sorry about the mess
Im guilty til proved innocent
In the public eye and press
The funerals very quiet because all his friends have fled
They may be false, they may be true
Theyve all got better things to do
They may be false, they may be true
But nothing has been proved
Nothing
Nothing has been proved
Oh, nothing
Nothing
Oh, nothing
Nothing
Oh, nothing

Will email you soon xx

Thanks Will! I was starting to type the lyrics out from memory, then had to leave for work. Even though the scandal doesn't mean anything to me, Miss Dusty adds something special to the song. I rather like it. Here's a video of her only "live" performance of the song:

Yeah, I can usually recall most of the lyrics from memory. Weren't you there at the "Name that Tune" competition at the pre-Dusty Day party?? Also, I hate to "google" things I should know.

This is one of my favourite Dusty songs and I love the video too. Here's my favourite YouTube version, 9.21 mins long.

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=oh5rWMQczgY>

I think the line is 'Please, Please Me's No. 1' (the Beatles song's at No.1)

If you can check out the book 'Honeytrap: Stephen Ward's Secret Worlds' it'll make your eyes pop out! And the film 'Scandal' is excellent. The story is really all about what the ruling class got up to behind the closed doors of their mansions and estates - mirrors, canes, masks and goodness knows what else. And how it was the lower classes that got the blame apart from Minister of State Profumo who had to resign. Stephen Ward and Christine Keeler were the main fall guys.

That is the right line, Memphis.

Thanks for posting this...is this the extended version of the dance mix that was on the single?

Hello Taylor

I'm not sure. I think this is a re-mix done for YouTube. I wish someone would do a 30 minute version. I can listen to this track forever!

It sounds a lot like the Dance mix, which was really just different instrumentation with the same vocals...perhaps it's just mixed to be longer for Youtube. It's lovely, indeed!

Funny to read the proper lyrics

I genuinely always thought the line was
'the hole in Stephens pocket from expenses that he earned'.

How appropriate it should come up this week with the current UK Westminster 'scandal'...

One of my favourites from her later recordings. The video is good too.

The intro sets the theme of the song so well. Perhaps the PSB's should write a song about the MP's expenses...its a Scandal!!

Keep throwing out your favorite videos! The funny thing about the Profumo Affair is that years later we can see lots of lives were ruined by what boiled down to NOTHING!!! It just had those two red flag words; Communism and Prostitutes! Sad, really! I think Dusty could do the song so well because she knew what it was to be convicted of nothing! Thanks all for your help. Kiss to you, Will. Keith
