

The Archives of Let's Talk Dusty!

Home | Profile | Active Topics | Active Polls | Members | Search | FAQ

Username: [input] Password: [input] Login

Save Password

Forgot your Password?

All Forums

Let's Talk Dusty! The Forum

Don't Forget About Me

What would she be doing now?

Forum Locked

Printer Friendly

Author

Topic

Carole R.
Where am I going?
☆☆☆

Posted - 04/03/2009 : 09:32:49

2242 Posts

This may have been done before, but what the heck..Lets do it again!..🙄🙄

If Dusty hadn't died ten yrs ago, and she was a robust'nearly 70yr old'🙄🙄

What do you hope/think she would be doing with her life now?

Just wonderin'. 🙄

Carole R xx

"Let everyone debate the true reality, I'd rather see the World the way it used to be"

Brian
Where am I going?
☆☆☆

Posted - 04/03/2009 : 10:49:36

United Kingdom
2058 Posts

Yes, we have done it before - but it's worth it again!

Personally I think she would STILL be recording. Someone steeped in music as she was would never really give up.

I would think she would go more for 'standards' and possibly more 'easy listening' stuff, although 'Live it up 2009' would be nice! (a possible duet with Tina Turner??!)

She would be a welcome guest on any talk show. She would have written her life story by now, and possibly done an advert for Ikea's cheap crockery🙄🙄

Finally - she would be the most welcome guest at 'DUSTY DAY'🙄

Brian

dave d
I start counting

Posted - 04/03/2009 : 11:00:55

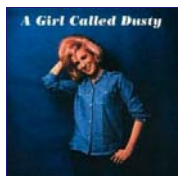

95 Posts

yes Brian - you beat me to it- i was going to mention that Dusty would have written an auto-biography by now, it certainly would be humourous, sad, but most of all enlightening.and probably a best seller! Maybe an album of duets with the likes of Diana Ross Andy Williams maybe Cliff Richards and any other "ageing" stars from the sixties Maybe she would feature in the adverts that use her songs on the tele- she would relish the cruise lines!!!! i certainly dont think we would see her starring in any of the reality shows

Cardiff
Bluesgirl
I'll try anything
☆☆

Posted - 04/03/2009 : 14:16:58

yes an album of great duets. I think she would have had a real market today as there has been such a lot of reforming of bands and general comebacks with everyone actually looking for revival stuff. I think she would have been wonderful on the chat shows and with Jools Holland etc.Imagine her at Dusty Day etc the place would be swamped. it would also mean that The Pet shop Boys would have had her on the Brits and not that awful GAGA bird.

"every day I find your'e in my heart and on my mind" liz mason

Topic

Forum Locked
 Printer Friendly

Jump To: