I think my favourite Dusty duet is 'What Have I Done To Deserve This.' I like its quirkiness.

I like 'Heart & Soul'; I'm not usually into "rah-rah" songs but that one really does give me a boost - not enough to actually do anything but...

And Cilla sounds great!

'What Have I Done to Deserve This'. This was a perfect pairing and a perfect come back. I'll never forget the excitement. It's the wait and then when Dusty sings it's just total greatness. It works for me every time. Always has. A perfect pop record.

I quite agree - it's WHIDTDT for me also.

I do like the Cilla and Dusty duet and video just because they're having a blast. They're great!

Oh crap. Now I've got to try and pick. I was going to go for the obvious choice for me, 'Corner of the Sky' with Miss Dusty and Petula. Now 'What Have I Done to Deserve This?' is giving me serious second thoughts. I'll be back...

I should add, Taylor, that it's the 'since you went away' bit that gets me. And then at the end those Dusty ad libs. She was finally back.

And the video was where most people saw Dusty for the first time or for the first time in years. This was such a big hit everybody knew who Dusty was at that time - which was full of promise and anticipation. What would she do next? Would we get to see her in concert? Would she make a new album? Was she back forever?

I have to go with WHIDTDT as well.

However, my Dream Duet would have been Dusty and Marvin.. 'You're All I Need To Get By'

I'm sure that the people who know me already guessed which duet with Dusty I would pick as my fave...

Dusty and Michael Ball singing Ain' No Mountain High Enough. Sure wish they had a few more duets.

Just editing to add my second choice is Heart and Soul with Cilla.

I've seen it on YouTube a few times, Liz, but it doesn't look like it's on there now.

I like Heart and Soul w/Cilla, but it could be the sentimental factor too.

If you want a permanent record of this clip Elizabeth, its in the DVD that Corinna makes available for the donation to our charities, along with a lot of Dusty's other Performances from 85 to 95 including the elusive Roll Away. Well worth it. See the thread under Wishin and Hopin if you are interested. 😊

The Youtube police have removed the sound from the German clip of "I think it's gonna rain today". (The trippy one with the huge yellow balloons) They told me to either replace the sound, or delete it completely. I have deleted it, but might just as well upload it again, this cat-and-mouse-game might go on indefinitely.... (That is if they don't keep tabs on me)

There's no one listed as doing any vocals on "Sea and Sky" other than Miss Dusty herself, Angela. But as I'm listening to it now, it doesn't sound like her doing background vocals either. A mystery!

Ah, I think I see where I was confused now - on the box CD set I was looking at, it listed the song as being by Michel Legrand (I forgot the name earlier and had to look it up) featuring Dusty Springfield, and I assumed it was a duet, but he is the piano player and Dusty is the vocalist.

Ah. That makes sense. Monsieur Legrand did write the song.

I understand that, some time before Dusty became ill that she was about to sing a duet with Petula Clark, and that after she passed the duet was eventually done electronically. Anyone know more about this?

There were no plans for a duet with Petula until after Dusty died and Petula went into the studio with Dusty's unfinished Longing recording of Corner of the Sky. Petula added her vocals to Dusty's remixed ones. It's a beautiful song if you haven't heard it. It was released on Petula's "Duets" album in 2007.

They never recorded anything but I think that Dusty & Scott Walker could have made a great album together. 😊

I rather like the tv duets when Dusty sang 'Mockingbird' with Jimmy Hendrix, and 'This could Be The Start of Something Big' with Georgie Fame. Plus her duet with Scott Walker 'Let it be Me'....magic!
