Many of you may know this, however, Cass Elliott of The Mamas And The Papas was a huge Dusty fan. She wanted to model her career after Dusty's. I was watching a Bio of Cass today and in one segment, she was belting out the words and she sounded a lot like our Dusty!!

Just thought I'd let you all know that!!

I didn't know that but good on Mama Cass. She had quite a set of pipes herself. On what song did she sound a lot like La Dust?

And if this is Millissa Millissa, welcome... I'll post something on another thread that will interest you. x

Nancy,
Thanks! It is indeed me!! Cass was with two other fellows in a sort of Springfields act singing a folk song.. but for the life of me, I can't recall!! I'll try to figure it out!!

I look forward to the new info!

Millissa,
I think I read somewhere too that Dusty was very fond of and grateful to Mama Cass for support she had given her along the way. So I guess it was reciprocal.
I read a biog of the Mama's and Papa's but found no comments in there on Dusty.

Dusty said, that of all the deaths of people in the music business of people that she'd known, the one that affected her the most was of Mama Cass. She said something along the lines of - "I don't know why - maybe because it happened in London or maybe it's because she was nice to me".

There's also the stories about Dusty, Cass & Lee Everett going out and getting drunk and having to wheel Mama Cass down her drive in a wheelbarrow because she couldn't stand up.

Love Cass's voice - it's so pure and so strong.

Oh Gypsy, maybe Mama Cass deserves her own thread under The Other Side of Life? Or at least a song!!

How about Dream a Little Dream of Me?

One of the boys in Eskimo Joe! I saw an interview where one of them said the song that had changed his like was 'Just A Little Lovin' by our girl 🙄🙄

Obviously we know that the Pet Shop Boys were huge fans of Dusty. 🙄

Is Helen Mirren also a fan? What with all the Dusty songs in Prime Suspect and all, I wondering if there is some kind of connection? Plus I think I read somewhere about Mirren attending a Dusty concert?!?

Zoe Lucker who played the very OTT Tanya in Footballers Wives and Bad Girls is a big Dusty fan. She's always mentioning her in interviews and she chose her as one of her 'Passions' in NOW magazine saying "The greatest pop star of all has to be Dusty Springfield. I think there's something really special about her voice. I'm such a big fan that even the ringtone on my mobile is Dusty's You Don't Have to Say You Love Me. I was really upset
