After a pretty hectic time of late I finally had a free day and seeing as it wasn't raining for a change I went to visit Our Lady of Hampstead and, of course, took piccies to share with you all! 📷 It was a lovely sunny day and she had many visitors during the couple of hours I was there who asked me all sorts of questions - which luckily I could answer!

Also there was a nice elderly gent who, courtesy of a phone call from the lovely Betty, (who I also ran into and had a long chat with) was re-staining the bench so it now looks the part 🌈📷

LTD Flowers

Bench re-staining in full swing

Finished product!

Did Dusty like birds?! Everywhere I went in the churchyard I was followed by someone keeping a watchful eye on things!! 🤩🙏🏻

Thanks very, very much, Bev.

Beautiful flowers not just from us but from others too. It's so great that Dusty is looked after so well even by the birds!

Thanks for the photos Bev. I'm pleased that our "LTD" florist is doing such a lovely job of putting flowers on Dusty's marker in her favourite colours. 😊

Thanks for the update and photos, Bev. I'm glad you get to visit Henley so often.

The flowers are beautiful--and ours in Dusty colors, just like we ordered.

It's great to see the bench restoration is now underway - thanks for the pictures Bev. I do know that the colour will be a little darker this time (mahogany) as this was the nearest match Derek could get. The private plot behind the bench which is home to a Dusty rose tree will be tidied up next!

Do you know Derek, Pat? And did you have something to do with this upkeep?

A friend of mine arranged it. And the rose garden is the next on her list!

I say! 😊 Thanks for arranging this, Pat!

And I can only echo what's been said before - thanks for the beautiful pictures, Bev!

And the White Garden really does a wonderful job with the flowers. Nice to see others laying flowers as well.

Good to see Dusty's still cherished by so many... 😊
