A friend is doing some research for a forthcoming Dusty project and has asked if I can put a mail up here in case anyone should know the address of Dusty's parents when they lived in Hove. They lived on Wilbury Ave, but she's after the house number. Any ideas?

Wow Mark, right on the money, well done, number 11. Bev, here's another address for you to check out and add to the tour 🍷

You're welcome! 😊I recall reading about the 'Dusty Springfield Bus', and one thing lead to another!

Here's a link to the Bus

I had no idea Dusty had had a bus named after her...impressive.

There was a photo of it somewhere posted on the site Cas. Brighton is very Dusty oriented with a Dusty bus and the star walk or whatever it's called, even if they did leave Dusty's OBE off the dedication.

Thank you for reminding us about the 'Walk of fame' Kathy!

There's something about it here, plus a small photo of Dusty's name etched into the window of a Fish and Chip shop!

Great Info Mark. Pam and I are visiting a friend of a friend in Brighton and we'll be sure to stop by walk position number 54 with Dusty. I notice on the website they do have Dusty's OBE and mention her living in Wilbury Road, Hove. 😊 I think Dusty would have loved her name etched in the glass of a (gourmet) fish and chip shop! 🍷

Also, I'll be sure to stop by Walk Position No. 6 commemorating ABBA and their winning the 74 Eurovision song contest with Waterloo in Brighton. 😊

Sorry Carole, that's the old bus which no longer runs 😊... it was removed from service in April 2004 and replaced with the current bus - I saw it a while back :

Kathy - I've not been to Wilbury Avenue but I've been to Wilbury Road cos I was told that they lived on the 'Road' not the 'Avenue' so not sure who's right there but if it were a choice I think I'd have to stick with Carole!!!! 🤪 Funnily enough though I'm passing through Hove tomorrow on my way to see a friend so I'll take my camera along for good measure and take some snaps of the 'Avenue' if I get the chance!!

This is a local estate agent that has a house for sale in Wilbury Avenue so you can see what the houses look like - they must be pretty nice too judging by the price!!!!

To be honest Bev, I put Wilbury Ave because the person who asked me about it, called it Ave, she could have got that wrong as the other person, on the Brighton site, calls it Rd. I didn't realise there was one of each, so you might have to take two photo's! Although I knew Dusty's parents lived in Brighton, I never knew an address. Thanks for updating the bus, perhaps the next one could be purple 😊

Brighton is expensive anyway, but it's 5 bedrooms!

I think driver/s of the Dusty bus should be required to have a beehive and big sunnies.
(Might not be too hard to come up with such drivers in Brighton. 😊)

Thank you ladies I had never ever seen either bus...fantastic...I too prefer the blue one but yes purple would look great. I think I might try to get Burnley and Pendle to rename a bus after Dusty tho I dout they would 😊 All our Witch Way buses are named after famous Witches!

OK stand by your beds... who lives in a house like this? David it's over to you! 😊

Er sorry... well as promised piccies of Wilbury Road and Wilbury Avenue 📷 :

House number one : No.11 Wilbury Road piccies I took a while back which I think are already on the site somewhere :

House number two : No.11 Wilbury Avenue taken this (grey and slightly damp!) morning :

The one for sale on the estate agent site for over £950,000 is at the other end of the street and is one of a few fairly new houses. I think many of the older houses are now flats and one sold recently for just under £400,000! A 6 bedroom house similar in style to the one in the first piccie in Wilbury Road is currently on the market for £1,950,000... ouch!

If I were to choose one of these as being the right house I'd have to go for Wilbury Avenue as it's a lot smaller and more of a home for two people as opposed to Wilbury Road which looks like it could house a small army! Although you never know, it depends on how much Dust shelled out I suppose!! 🤔

Thanks Sherlock Bev 🧐 The Road house looks like flats now, wonder if it was back in the 60's and 70's? I also wonder if Dusty bought the Hove property for her parents, I can't think that I ever heard her say she did. I only remember Dusty ever talking about buying Aubrey Walk. I did ask Pat if Dusty ever actually lived in Hove with her parents and she said no.

Pleasure! On page 21 in Lucy O'Brien's book (or in my paperback version anyhoo!) the last para on the page mentions that her parents were living in Brighton and that was around the time she hooked up with the Lana Sisters so I doubt she had enough money to buy them anything at that time let alone a house!!

Thanks Bev, great pictures. It's possible that the Road address was flats in the 60's and 70's and so I guess either could have been the address. We'll probably never know for sure but like you I would guess "the Avenue", but it is great to see them both. Thanks for taking the photos so we can see them. 😊
