The RAH tracks on there might just introduce songs to people who only know her by the hits, which is good. But what the heck have they done to her hair on the cover? Looks like she's wearing it in bunches! Still, nice to see her promoted in this way though.

Yeah the hair is weird... maybe the person designing the cover was dodgy with photoshop..

Geeze, you kids sure get a lot of Dusty stuff over there in the UK - we get nothing here. 🌐 I supposed that's because she was a Brit; but, damn, she did have a pretty big career here as well.

Looks like a cultural thing to me - sadly, the U.S. is a disposable culture - we tear down beautiful old buildings to make way for ugly 90-floor condominiums; toss our greatest talents on the scrap heap if they don't bring in the big bucks anymore; and, have very little knowledge of and/or respect for History. It's amazing that Independence Hall still stands in Philadelphia! I'm sure some developer would love nothing more than to turn it into a parking lot for a luxury condo. 🌐 Greed, thy name is America!

Awh, but enough of my anti-patriotic ranting! 😞 You kids are so lucky - free Dusty CD's in the Sunday papers - DAMN! 😡

Love,
Rantin' Ro - Oh, and GOD BLESS AMERICA!!! 🇺🇸🇺🇸🇺🇸🇺🇸

Just got my copy home and played the first CD. The tracks on there are ALL taken from the RAH concert - and are NOT the studio versions (altho it doesn't state this on the cover). Next week's track listing looks like it will be the same thing again. Basically they've re-edited the RAH album to produce a different running order over the 2 CDs.

i wonder why they chose the RAH versions rather than the studio ones..? seems a bit odd not to state on the CD cover that they're live versions of the tracks.

but anyway, i'm not complaining! my copy of 'The Express' just arrived; and it's good to see Dusty taking up half of the front page 🤔 even if they have destroyed her beehive..

I think they've probably got some kind of deal going with the company (Eagle) that have released the RAH. There's a separate advert around the middle of the paper for the RAH DVD.

Ive just been listening to mine -wow😄. When I first put it on I thought oh no theyve put in the wrong CD or that grumpy hubby was teasing me because he wasnt pleased about getting that paper (hes happy now though cos hes watching Mrs Peel)but its just that my media player plays tracks in a strange order and played 15 first which I liked. Whats the story with the bonus tracks🤔. I tried to search for the lyrics of that one but couldnt find out anything about any of them.

I absolutely loved This will be, its at least as good as Natalies? if not better. Was it ever recorded in a studio?

I haven't played it yet and would have been surprised at hearing the RAH versions of all the tracks. Like you say, it doesn't mention that they're all live. And as someone just pointed out to me, The Look of Love without the visuals, is a long way from hearing Dusty at her best. If this is the first hearing of her for some folk, I hope they don't think she always sang the song like that. Whisper it, but she was somewhat off key😄. Wish they'd chosen another song.

I reckon they've got some kind of deal going on with Eagle - give the CD away in a hacked about and edited form and advertise the DVD for sale - there's an ad in a separate bit of the paper.

Some of the hits were performed in a long medley - and they've been edited out and separated on these CDs. It's all a bit odd. And the version of "You Don't Have To Say You Love Me" at the start of the CD is FAR from the best version we've got of it.

But it's good that she's on the front page of a Sunday newspaper (and not for "scandalous" reasons!)

Using the studio versions would have been much more expensive. They did the same thing with the Beach Boys a couple of years back - implied that you were getting the familiar 'hit' versions, when in fact they were taken from the Knebworth concert, also released by Eagle.

Still, a good thing overall.

No I'd never heard it before but isnt that how most singers sound live after the first couple of songs. The look of love is quite funny cos she is laughing through it and says something like they pay me for this.

I haven't rushed to hear it I must say, like Fraser says it's butchered...nicely put.

Yes sometimes I find the RAH CD a bit hard work to listen too, without being too controversial, it's a long way from the quality of her 60s live TV performances. Sorry but that's the way I feel. The main exceptions are 'Lose Again' and 'Sandra' which are wonderful. Maybe you had to have been there. And I sure wish I was!!

You dont think its the promoters of the Dusty The original Pop Diva show behind it all, isnt VW one of them. Nooness replied yet about whats behind the bonus tracks-I dont have many virtues and that includes patience.

Yeah aside from the poodle parlour wig remix on the cover, I'm sure the whole collection is mono. That's cool in vinyl when it's properly mixed for such - sad for a CD - it condenses the life out of it a bit..

PS. Dear impatient one...the extra tracks are by unsigned session people/bands and unconnected with Dusty. Most are bland enough to stop an elevator working in its tracks.

After all, the episodes were all made during the course of 1965, Dusty was certainly at a peak then!
