Oh gads I've been sick. Been off the sites for ages. But, whenever I feel like I can take sitting in this chair and doing my internet thing, I look for my favorite places pick of Dusty on YouTube singing "Time After Time".

Just a few minutes ago with my head spinning I got online and "the cat" had to do his thing and lay down right in front of the computer monitor. I usually move the keyboard to the desk drawer and let him sprawl out right below the screen. Well, while I was listening and watching Dusty sing this song, which has become my favorite, "THIS CAT", that usually ignores everything on the monitor, suddenly turns around, watches Dusty for a few seconds and slowly reaches up and puts his paw right on her while she's singing. bwwaaaaaaa...It was so sweet. It was not random. I swear!! Well, heh, heh, I really don't know, but it honestly looked like he loved what he was hearing and seeing and wanted to reach out and touch Dusty. I actually got tears in my eyes. Mind you I have been very sick and I'm probably just emotional. ::sniff::sniff::

I have no idea why it affected me so much, but it did. This cat is very much accustomed to sitting in front of this monitor while my roommate plays all kinds of games and stuff and he has never so gently reached up and put his little paw on something and looked at it so lovingly.

Maybe I better go check my temperature. 🤒

Anyway, I've decided my two absolutely most favorite songs by Dusty, the two that give me goosebumps, are "Time After Time" and "Don't Say it, Baby". Have to admit, though, that I still haven't heard everything she's done.

Good to know one of my cats has very good taste in people and music.

Kathy

Hope you are on the road to recovery now Robin. Your DVD should be arriving any day soon, so that should cheer you up a little. I know what you mean by your cat reaching out and touching the screen, I have a cat that does that too, although may not be as discerning as your cat--her favourite thing is the bouncing DVD ball screen saver. My cats love music though, especially Dusty, they often sit with me and listen to her sing. Anyway, get well soon. Glad you are back with us. 😊

Robin- glad you are feeling better. Think it is great that your cat is so discerning. My cat just likes all music but she sits in front of my screen and watches me. 🤔 Got no taste, my cat.

Thank you all very much for your kind words. Me kidneys are doing me in. 🤔

I was a bit emotional that day and my roommate did say that "baby boy" does occasionally pat at things on the computer. BUT, I stand by what I saw!! It was so sweet. Just felt like he was feeling what I was feeling at the moment.

I truly love the way Dusty sings that song and I love the musical arrangement. I call it kind of push beat or even drag beat. I have no idea what a musician would call it. Also, I think those two songs are where I really hear the tomboyishness ?? sound in Dusty's voice. I so much wish that I had known more about her in the 60's. I mean I was around then!! I knew she was great on YDHTSYLM in 1966 and I was definitely aware that she was a good singer. Just didn't realize how great she was at the time.

And thanks Kathy for what's in the mail!

I'm sorry to hear you've been doing poorly, Robin.
Of course your cat's action wasn't random...the planets are aligned to Dusty.
Take care of yourself.

Accckk! I've finally get out of my sick bed and look for Dusty's "Time After Time" video and it says the "user" has pulled it off You Tube. What happened? Bwwaaaaa.....

And very belated thanks Nancy for your kind words. I haven't been online much at all in the past month. I've lost the the whole month of June.

Where's Dusty's Time After Time?????

Robin, glad to hear you are posting on LTD again. Hope this means you are home from the hospital now. There should have been a Dusty DVD waiting for you at home, I hope. Sorry you missed Time after Time. I'll look through my collection and if I have it will record it for you and send it on DVD. Take care of yourself. I hope your health stabilizes now. 😊

Hey Kathy! Yes I did get a DVD from you and I remember barely being able to sit up at the computer but I had to play it there because it wouldn't work in my DVD player in the bedroom. Hey, it got me out of bed! 🙏 Pretty sure I e-mailed you. I hope so.

I was just curious to why it was pulled off You Tube. Someone obviously has it in a collecion somewhere. I'm glad they at least had it up for awhile because I played it just about every day.

You really have been the best about sending out the Dusty stuff. Thank you so much. You are SWEET!

Robin

Oh puhleeze you are all making me blush 😊 But thanks for your kind thoughts. 😊

Robin you did email me regarding the first DVD but around the time you were to go into hospital I think I sent you another DVD. I had a lot to send at the time so now I can't actually remember if yours was among them. Anyway, you're on my list for another (including Time after Time) in the next lot to be done. Hope it helps your convalescence. 😊
