No it isn't an alternate cut of YDHTSYLM, it's a 1975 game show in the US that Dusty was supposedly a panel on. Does anyone have any memories of seeing the programs?

I remember the show You Don't Say very well. I use to watch it everyday when I came home from school.

Don't remember Dusty being on the panel at all. Jim did you check Paul's book? I will have a look when I have a moment.

That is where I got that tidbit from, as a matter of fact.

For those who don't know, YDS! was basically a show where celebrities help contestants guess the answers by giving them clues to get them to say words that sound like the syllables in it. By the time Dusty was on, they had the contestants and a panel of four stars, presumably to appear more like Match Game, which was hot then. (My friend in fact swore that Dusty was on MG, I think it had to be this though)

I wonder, is there anyone else here who remembers when she was on?

hmm, I don't remember this show, "You Don't Say"...there were so many game shows on TV during the 70's. Being 15yrs old at this time, I am sure I was out and up to no good.

Paula "You Don't Say" originally aired in the 60's not the 70's.

There were a few incarnations of YDS...it started in the '60s but there were 2 more versions in the '70s indeed. Dusty supposedly was on the last Tom Kennedy-hosted one.

I'm surprised that I don't recall this show, but I don't. So, does anyone have a copy of the episode on which Dusty appears?
