Angel of the morning (#p40545)

by Corinna » Thu Nov 18, 2010 3:29 pm

On another thread, "Angel of the morning" was mentioned as a song Dusty should have recorded. She hasn't recorded it, but she has performed it as part of a medley on her TV show Decidedly Dusty from 1969. Here's a takeout from that medley.

Thank you Cor, I still don't know how to post musical clips like this 🎵 She really is incredible and marvellous and can still make my insides flip when I hear something live like this that I haven't listened to in quite a while. Now going in search of the Live CD with this one on to put in my car.

Enjoyed listening to this, 🎧👍

Dusty always had an ear for a good tune and the voice to sing them in her own fabulous style. 🌟

Thanks for posting. 😊

It's on Fraser's double-CD Decidedly Dusty BBC 1969. Hopefully, Rob can put this up for sale in the A Song For You section shortly.

Thanks, Corinna!! Dusty's version of the song was so beautiful! 🥰

There's an interesting "conga beat" at the end of the song.. maybe it's the beginning of the next song?? 🙄

OMG -- that is SO fine! Thank you, Cor, thank you DUSTY!

It's a song that the hell was played out of over here, and I didn't especially like it (it was okay), but hearing it Dustified--well that's a horse of a different color !!!!

I wish somehow it could be remixed with better sound and released.

Oh yes, that's a nice one, John.

It's hard to compare a live version in a buzzing environment with a calm studio version though. I would have liked to hear what Dusty had made of it in the studio.

Dusty version of this song will be on the new box set to be released next year. It'll be part of a live CD, along with other songs from her third BBC series which have never had a commercial release. There will also be tracks from Dusty's other live BBC appearances.

Thanks for the info! 🌹

I wanted to buy these three CDs for Christmas in A Song For You...:

- At The Talk Of The Town PLUS Other Tracks from 1968
- "Live" Recordings Vol. 3
- Decidedly Dusty BBC TV 1969

...but I think I will wait to see the track listing of this box set !

It's a little bit confusing. 😞 Please, help me to take the best decision! 🙏

🟢 I agree .There's a special quality to it. Maybe because it was released in June, 1968. Those were my glory days, and her song got a lot of airplay. It's etched into my memory. 🙏

I can't wait for this new box set. I love the Good Times double cd with all those great live tracks, most of them never recorded in the studio. We all know the great thing about Dusty was that unlike a lot of other performers she enjoyed performing tracks live on TV that weren't necessarily in her back catalogue of recorded material. Hopefully this new box set will enable us to have lots of new titles never recorded in the studio. 🙏 Rich.

(PS. Does anyone know the tracks to be included in the box set?)

Should we expect to hear from Paul first, or a release notice from Universal ?

YAY about an upcoming boxed set with a live disc!

I wonder where Universal obtained the live recordings - from fans or from their own vaults? Perhaps they were able to recover some of the masters to programmes that were thought to have been lost or destroyed?

I want to express my gratitude for the care you have taken to ensure that this wonderful singer is never forgotten . I was a fan from 1962- saw her first live tour, was at the NME concerts and saw her at the BBC in Shepherds Bush. She has been the musical backdrop to my life and continues to be so.

Random story time...

I was at the flea market this past Sunday selling some of my family's old things, when a lady was looking at my mother's jewelry and I was playing some Dusty live tunes on my radio (always promoting her, I am 😊). Well wouldn't you know the lady purchased an angel pin whilst shopping to the sounds of Dusty's "Angel of the Morning"!
