It says "live", does this mean Dusty is actually singing live or is she miming to a recording?

thanks

My recollection is that she only sang two songs 'live', both of which she had not recorded. However, when it came to her hits etc she mimed to recordings.

Love the early mimes. I feel she is lost without a mic and doesn't know what to do with her arms. She also covers the slight loss of words she has with bowed head and hands across her face. I'm not sure Dusty was too happy in those days with having to lip-sync, but her class got her through. Later singing to track she had more confidence- even though sometimes the words were in no particular order!. Love her xx.
