Re: Dusty Tribute Show

Had a great evening at this show on Saturday. It's a small venue, probably about 100 covers and that made it seem like a private party. I spoke with Jonathan Peter the director and he said that amongst other things he was working on, he wanted to do something more personal and Dusty was his choice as he was a big fan. They began with an instrumental Quiet Please and then each singer sang in rotation, one song each, and although not one of them had a voice that was anything like Dusty's, they did her songs proud. They have all performed in the West End and on TV, two on the Lloyd Weber shows (for Nancy and Dorothy). My personal favourites were Amelia Cormack an Australian with a powerful voice and Stephanie Fearon who had finished 4th in Over the Rainbow. The songs were mainly from the 60's, 24 in all, including the less performed I'll Try Anything, I Think it's Gonna Rain and Am I The Same Girl which was sung by Hannah Levane, who actually was another favourite! She did the funky stuff, like Middle of Nowhere and SOAPM and has performed in Sister Act and We Will Rock You. It was all very professionally done and the three of us (and the rest of the room) loved it 🎉

We also popped into Henley on the way to London and I did a little tidying up and left some pre-birthday flowers for Dusty.

The producer of the show has let me know that because the last show was so popular, they have been asked to do another Dusty night in June. It's on the 7th and, as luck would have it, I'm out of the country, but if anyone is around the King's Rd on that date, I can really recommend it, it was an excellent night. When I get more info, I'll post it here.

Just seeing this...sounds like a fun night, Carole. They should repeat the performance sometime around DD when the fans are swarming London. It would be a fun night out for them all.

Re: Dusty Tribute Show - New date announced

by davdreamer » Tue May 14, 2013 2:09 pm

As I said previously, I can't get to this new show as I'm on a plane that day but I really enjoyed the previous one and can recommend it for a lovely night out.

EXCLUSIVE ANNOUNCEMENT:

Following their sell-out April concert, KIWI FRUITS Productions return to The Pheasantry with "DUSTY SPRINGFIELD: GOING BACK", an exclusive encore performance of their musical tribute to the legendary White Queen of Soul.

Directed by Johnathan Peter, internationally-acclaimed leading ladies Jamie Birkett (RENT), Erin Cornell (WICKED), Daisy Tonge (CHILDREN OF EDEN), Gemma Jade Sandzer (HAIR) and Hayley Red Clibbery (THE DUSTAPHONICS) perform 30 classic songs celebrating the triumphant, turbulent and often tragic life of Dusty Springfield, accompanied by a live band led by Musical Director Terence Penk and featuring our trio of backup singers 'The Dustbunnies' Sam Haughton, Jade Williams and Kaisla Ollila

Friday 7th June

Doors: 7pm

Show Begins: 8.30pm

Tickets: £20.00 — with Jamie Birkett and 8 others.

There's a part of you, that's a part of me...
