For anyone that is curious to hear it here it is. For you to hear and download at you leisure... Enjoy

.....easier to make a CD with. Just save the WAVE files to make individual songs I know this might be difficult in writing. You Tube must have a video to show what to do.

To make this into a CD there's a few steps you right click each track under where it says mp3 on the board and then save it on to your desktop. Then if you have windows you but all the tracks where you can burn a CD. There is a burn feature on usual the right type put a blank disc and then hit burn AUDIO cd. It will automatically turn the mp3 into the wav files and burn the disc. That's the easiest way I can teach to download the files and make a cd. If you run into trouble hopefully you know someone that can help you.
