Retro Style

BY SARA FEAST ON FEBRUARY 18, 2010 11:55 AM IN MAKE-UP

This week I went to the launch of the Boots No7 Decades collection.

They have a look for every decade since the 1940s, and the lip gloss in each range is named after a style icon from the period.

The noughties is named for Agyness (Deyn), the 90s for Jennifer (Aniston), Joan (Collins) for the 80s, Bianca (Jagger) for the 70s, Dusty (Springfield) for the 60s, Marilyn (Monroe, obviously) for the 50s and finally, Judy (Garland) for the 40s.

I love things with a retro twist, and they had make-up out on display from the 40s. The Decades collection logo is actually copied from a 1940s pot of rouge. It's really cute.

And to prove that beauty trends are as cyclical as fashion trends, the No7 'Supreme 70s' Eye Shadow Trio, £ 9.75, is bang on for this season's craze for pastels.

They're available in store and on Boots.com from 6th May.

can't think of anyone else who could beat Dusty as the 60's makeup queen.

Bianca Jagger for the 70's?...was she in the limelight THAT much in England? Most of the photos I have seen of her at that time was from some random disco club w/ Mick.

😞 Oh what a dilemma!.....I collect everything and anything to do with Dusty, but lipstick?? Do you know if there's matching nail varnish?

Think just the lippy is named 'Dusty' but if there is matching nail varnish, I'll be sure to let you know Brian 🐼 I'm don't know why they would have gone for Bianca Jagger Paula, I guess she was quite the style icon in the 70's, for some people anyway, I was still languishing in the 60's! I'm really pleased they've chosen Dusty though, it makes a change from Twiggy. Dusty wore much more make up than she did!

It's definitely a 'Dusty' colour they chose for the lipstick! 🍋 I'm really pleased with it.

Fantastic!!! 😁

I'll buy a couple - one to wear, one to keep. I suggest you do the same, Brian. 😊

I think this is great news as well..

Dusty is the perfect makeup icon for the Sixties..

Its another thing to keep Dusty in the public's consciousness, which is what we all want.

Just to compare, here are the other decades

Forties

Fifiies

seventies

eighties

nineties

noughties

Forties and noughties (must be the smile) look especially good to me.

Any thoughts?

Lovely lipgloss. HOpe it will still be on sale in April. If only the had made the eyelids completely black they could have had Dusty eyeshadow as well. 😊

Long live the Queen of the mods and the postmods! 😊

This is an extract from

<http://thebeautyedit.blogspot.com/>

No 7 is 75! And so they've created the limited No7 Decades Collection, out in May, with seven looks to represent each decade they've existed. There's a three-colour eyeshadow, lip gloss and nail polish for each era and they've plundered the archive to reintroduce the starry silver logo. That's the 1950s nail colour above, Bobby Socks, a really nice superbright corally-pink. My other picks - Dusty, the 60s, a very pale pink lip gloss and the Electric 80s Anniversary Eye Trio which has turquoise, coral and lime green shadows. Nice to see No7 doing something a bit different

I'm a collector of Dusty memorabilia. But I can't see me self going into Boots and asking for a pink lipstick or any other colour! 🙄

O000H!

As both a passionate Dusty fan and a girl who'd rather leave the house without clothes than without makeup (really), I am positively tingling with excitement at this news. Fabulous!

PS I'm quite tempted to turn up at work with those 60s eyes, just to see what the reaction would be. 😊

As Karen mentioned it, I thought I'd bring up the original thread in case you missed it first time 😊 It is, of course, far more important than that other event that's happening on 6th May 🍷

Yes Carole, definitely more important than that other 6th May event, just wanted to remind them, as at least they will be here to browse in Boots. 😊

Karen.

I also went to my local Boots and they just had two left! The lady said it was popular, even after only the one morning of selling it.
Heres Ms P with the lippy!

Many thanks to Karen who has sent a tube for me and one for Paula. 😊 Much appreciated, girl. 🌹

Now what about a thread where everyone sends in a photo of their lips with the gloss on and we try to guess whose is whose. LOL. Not that I'm volunteering to organize it!
