

The Archives of Let's Talk Dusty!
Home | Profile | Active Topics | Active Polls | Members | Search | FAQ

Username: Password:

☒ Save Password
Forgot your Password?

All Forums

Let's Talk Dusty! The Forum

See All Her Faces

Dusty Photographs For Sale

Forum Locked

Topic: Locked

Printer Friendly

Author

Topic

Tom Lovett
Little by little
★

United Kingdom
944 Posts

Posted - 22/11/2006 : 21:48:27

Just found a site www.allposters.co.uk that sells Dusty photos. Some I've not seen for a long time, especially Dusty with the Nuns.

Just go into the site and enter Dusty Springfield.

Tom

Sophie
Where am I going?
☆☆☆
2302 Posts

Posted - 22/11/2006 : 22:17:04

thanks, Tom! that Dusty with the Nuns photo is great! 🙏 here it is:

daydreamer
Moderator
☆☆☆☆

United Kingdom
5404 Posts

Posted - 22/11/2006 : 22:53:40

Thanks Tom, there are three that I've either never seen before or at least don't have copies of. Can't quite justify the prices unfortunately. The having singing lessons on another thread...photographic evidence here 😊 dustyspringfield.info/.../topic.asp?AR...

1/7

Carole x

allherfaces Administrator
★★★★★

Posted - 22/11/2006 : 23:05:06

These are great. I especially like the last one.

Wonder what those nuns are thinking? That would be a great pic for a caption.

"Yesterday's gone. Love lead me on."
~Roll Away

USA
14235 Posts

Laura Administrator
★★★

Posted - 22/11/2006 : 23:26:49

quote:

Originally posted by scissorsophie
thanks, Tom! that Dusty with the Nuns photo is great! here it is:

Sweet Jesus now that is a heavenly pic! Even Dusty would make me convert, Or would it be the other way round?

United Kingdom
3075 Posts

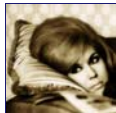

Love, Laura xx

Everything in moderation including moderation

dusty_freak
I've got a good thing
★★★★★

Posted - 23/11/2006 : 08:54:46

I like this site too because they have heaps of posters of things but they are the people that i got my Dusty poster from with the wrong year o done anything about it. Rude...

I bought a photo of Dusty from them too and it's on my wall!

Clare xoxo

"I'm not Mama's little baby no more..."

Australia
5805 Posts

Cas19
Wasn't born to follow
★★★★★

Posted - 25/11/2006 : 17:46:21

8313 Posts

daydreamer
Moderator
★★★★

Posted - 25/11/2006 : 19:51:25

Although I don't have it, I knew I'd seen that singing lesson picture before, and fairly recently. It was obviously in your book Cas! One day, when I'd love a copy 😊

Carole x

United Kingdom
5404 Posts

Mark
I've got a good thing
★★★★

Posted - 25/11/2006 : 20:14:01

Wow!....Thanks for posting the 'Nuns' photo Sophie.....I haven't seen it for ages!
The Nuns to Dusty's left are obviously happy to see her, not too sure about the other Nuns, it's like they're thinking "Singing?, that's no career!" retrospect Dusty made the right choice!

(Barbara had the 'misfortune' of attending a Convent school, most Nuns were lovely, but there was a 'sadistic' element in a few of them, her mother forced to eat chewy Liver for Lunch 🐷 coz of that experience she won't eat Liver to this day!)

Mark

United Kingdom
5309 Posts

Mads
Where am I going?
★★★

Posted - 26/11/2006 : 03:12:14

Does anyone know how to make that article readable? Haha I got a bit, but no luck with most of it.

If I try and blow it up, it becomes pixelated. 😞

Love,

Mads xxx

Australia
3323 Posts

Rob Administrator
★★★★

Posted - 26/11/2006 : 09:02:10

I'm not sure that this is any better.

United Kingdom
4205 Posts

DUSTY'S DUST-UP
—and the man who calmed her down

SHOW business personalities never cease to amaze me in their private lives.

Tough guys who dominate the screen with their utter masculinity turn out to be mincing wallflowers when the spotlights are turned off.

Couples who exude "Dusty and Tony" loveliness in the public eye are as much others when in the privacy of their dressing rooms.

Just as used as I am to such quips, I was astonished to hear that Dusty Springfield, just voted World No. 1 singer in a New Musical Express poll, cannot do a performance unless she has a therapeutic half-hour's singing session before stepping on stage.

But such is the case. When I saw Dusty in her New York hotel, this singing sage who has set America by its ears with her apparently relaxed vocal virtuosity made no bones about what she has to do before appearing before the crowds.

"Dusty," she told me, "if I didn't see my doctor every day I could never have anything."

He takes me through a course of acrobatic and other vocal exercises and then it all appears easy.

"But what is most important is that he gives me confidence. It's like having a magical psychiatrist. He's a miracle."

Should take any kind of public appearance in my sleep?

"It was the night I was with Rudy, Rudy when I arrived, she told me. "All you know... Dusty is a famous musician and band leader, but when I arrived he seemed to take an instant dislike to me."

"He was the leader of the band booked to accompany me at Radio St. Paul. But from the word go he appeared to have a chip on his shoulder about the British. He wouldn't make any effort to rehearse my numbers."

"As a composer he would make such remarks when he finished my set, as: 'Well if you like that kind of garbage... then that's up to you'."

Happy

The JACK BENTLEY Page

Dusty Springfield and Martin Lawrence, the American music teacher who has been her "psychiatrist".

psychiatrist. He's a combination of a sedative and a pep pill."

He is Martin Lawrence. The man whom so many stars with a holl in the larynx look to for a "get-well" treatment.

Said Dusty: "My voice gets tired even after one appearance."

"But at this club... . Naah. St. East, I had to do two shows a night and three at weekends."

"It wouldn't have mattered so much I suppose except that all the great singers and musicians make it their local pub—Ella Fitzgerald, Duke Ellington, Tony Bennett. The Swagmen, Dionne Warwick and everybody who means anything in the world of American music."

Fight

"You've got to prove something to people like that."

"If Martin hadn't arrived on the scene, I'm sure my voice would have croaked yet in the first week—and a radio show I'd have looked."

"I was scared to death that on my return to Britain next week I would be back in the groove of immortality."

"Martin has made a huge recording for me to play before each show, though, so I know that there will be no problems. What made Dusty get butterflies in the stomach when she is a seasoned performer, what?"

"He had me in tears for about a week. Then I knew my top."

"I went to his dressing room and said that I wanted to put a couple of new numbers in my set."

"He sat there with his feet on the desk and refused point blank. My Irish temper got the better of me and I wiped him across the face."

"But don't get the idea that it's all been fraught over here. I've never been so happy as on the last night of my engagement when the little sax player who had rooted for me all along the time pushed his way forward and grabbing the mike, said: 'Dear Dusty... ah! a girl... and I just want to give you a little push on how the world is the best for you!'"

"With that he unwrapped a parcel and handed me a goodbye present—a pair of boxing gloves."

DUSTY: SPRINGFIELD found that the ideal way to keep in trim for a busy schedule of Stateside singing dates was a daily run up and down the musical scales, accompanied by her music teacher MARTIN LAWRENCE. Better for the vocal chords than 100 peas a pop every morning!

ROB

Cas19
Wasn't born to follow
★★★★★

Posted - 26/11/2006 : 15:48:47

8313 Posts

DUSTY'S DUST-

SHOW business personalities never cease to amaze me in their private lives.

Tough guys who dominate the screen with their utter masculinity turn out to be mincing wallflowers when the arc lights are turned off.

Couples who exude "Darby and Joan" qualities in the public eye are at each other's throats in the privacy of their star dressing rooms.

But as used as I am to such quirks, I was astonished to hear that Dusty Springfield, just voted World No.

—and the man who calmed her down

1 Singer in a New Musical Express poll, cannot do a performance unless she has a therapeutic half-hour's singing lesson before stepping on stage.

But such is the case. When I rang Dusty in her New York hotel, this singing rage who has set America by its ears with her apparently relaxed vocal virtuosity made no bones about what she has to do before appearing before the crowds.

"Darling," she told me. "If I didn't see my teacher every day I could never have survived."

"He takes me through a course of scales and other vocal exercises and then it all appears easy."

"But what is most important is that he gives me confidence."

"It's like having a musical psychiatrist. He's a combination of a sedative and a pep pill."

He is Martin Lawrence. The man whom so many stars with a lull in the larynx look to for a "get-well" treatment.

Said Dusty: "My voice gets tired even after one appearance."

"But at this club . . . Basin St. East, I had to do two shows a night and three at weekends."

"It wouldn't have mattered so much I suppose except that all the great singers and musicians make it their local pub—Ella Fitzgerald, Duke Ellington, Tony Bennett, The Swingle Singers, Dionne Warwick and everybody who means anything in the world of American music."

Fight

"You've got to prove something to people like that."

"If Martin hadn't arrived on the scene, I'm sure my voice would have croaked out in the first week—and a right clot I'd have looked."

"I was scared to death that on my return to Britain next week I would be back in the old groove of uncertainty."

"Martin has made a tape recording for me to play before each show, though, so I know that there will be no problems."

What made Dusty get butterflies in the stomach when she is a seasoned performer who should take a appearance i

"It was th

Buddy Rich

she told me.

Buddy is a and band le arrived he s

instant dislik

"He was t

band booked

at Basin St.

the word go

have a chip

about the Br make any et my numbers.

"As a co make such finished my

you like tha

. . . then th

H

"He had about a week

top.

"I went to and said tha

a couple of n act."

"He sat the

the desk at blank. My ir better of me

across the fa

"But don't

it's all been t

"I've never

the last night

when the lit

had rooted fo line pushed and grabbing

"Dear Dusty

and I just w

little taken o

the band fee

"With that parcel and h

bye present—gloves."

The JACK BENTLEY Page

Dusty Springfield and Martin Lawrence, the American music teacher who has been her "psychiatrist."

DUSTY SPRINGFIELD found that the ideal way to keep in trim for a busy schedule of State-side singing dates was a

★★★★

United Kingdom
4205 PostsClive
I'll try anything
★★

Thanks Cas (and Dene), brilliant! 🌟

R👉B

Posted - 03/12/2006 : 20:50:00 📅

More Dusty photos for sale from this site

http://pictopia.com/perl/gal?gallery_id=6896&sequencenum=0&provider_id=33&process=gallery&page=

1455 Posts

daydreamer
Moderator
★★★★

Posted - 03/12/2006 : 23:01:01 📅

I absolutely LOVE those New York session photo's and it they weren't so terribly expensive, I'd have the lot! A few have already appeared in the publish them they are even more expensive. Gorgeous though.

Carole x

United Kingdom
5404 Postsallherfaces
Administrator
★★★★★

Posted - 04/12/2006 : 01:44:46 📅

#33, #37, #39 would make a lovely Xmas present for moi, if anyone's asking. NOT.

Which are on your list, Carole?

"Yesterday's gone. Love lead me on."
~Roll Away

USA
14235 PostsMads
Where am I going?
★★★

Posted - 04/12/2006 : 07:23:31 📅

Cas, tell Dene I love him 😊

Those photos are beautiful! Why are they so expensive?

Love,

Mads xxx

Australia
3323 Postspaula Moderator
★★★★

Posted - 04/12/2006 : 22:07:13 📅

ouch...they are pricey. I too like #33...seems to be a few of Dusty in this pose..arms akimbo..looking playful. 😊

paula x

USA 5012 PostsClive
I'll try anything
★★

Posted - 11/12/2006 : 08:41:20 📅

More Dusty photos for sale

http://www.free-scores.com/boutique/1165_music_posters_Dusty-Springfield.htm

1455 Posts

Mads
Where am I going?
★★★

Posted - 11/12/2006 : 23:28:00 📅

Clive - where do you find all this stuff?

Love,

Mads xxx

Australia
3323 PostsClive

