Now there's an offer you can't refuse Matt!! 🤪🤪

It's amazing what you can find if you're prepared to look through piles of old LPs and 45s in charity shops all over Sussex!!! Some are a lot more expensive than others but now and then you can find an absolute bargain!!

I picked these two (The Springfields 'Island of Dreams' and 'Bambino') up for £1 today too :

Well, I thought it was about time I set up all my Dusty stuff and photoed it. Couldn't believe how much I had when it was all accumulated together a bit jumbled because the cats (ever curious) kept walking across it and moving and knocking things around. Anyway, I wanted this post to be special as a tribute to Dusty, so here it is:

Your 'Where Am I Going' is a different colour to the one we got, our's was orange writing on pink. I think I like yours better. Is the black and r an ad for Chequers?

Most of the LP records are Pam's, she bought them at the time. The Where am I Going Album is hers and was bought here in Australia. I forg the CD Going Back, The Very Best Of...and DWD, Dusty by Lucy O'Brien, Scissors and Paste, and the Howes' Dusty "Bible". Oh well, next time I them...

The poster in the centre is the one I mentioned in the Oz Archives thread. Pam ripped it off the wall early one morning going to work in 1967. poster for the Chequers engagement Dusty had in October 1967. It needs a bit of restoring as some parts are missing (carefully hidden) We Carole. 😊

Well the CD's are in the CD rack, the DVD's are together on a special Dusty DVD part of the TV stand (but now needs more room) and the otl just put away at the moment. It is my intention to frame some of the other material, pictures, poster, etc. soon--although wall space is at a around here.

The CD with the Grand Finale picture on it is actually just a cover I made for a CD of Dusty as DJ-disc 1 (1979), as the Grand Finale was just later. The other CD cover with a favourite photo of mine with Dusty with the leopard (or whatever) at the bottom of that stack, houses disc as DJ. Most of the DVD's obtained via LTD have had appropriate/favourite photos included with them so they can be viewed and enjoyed ofte

The LP (in magnificent monaural) that you refer to is one of Pam's, bought in Australia and is a Philips (PD159). It claims to be Dusty's second includes songs such as All Cried Out, Can I Get a Witness, Summer is Over, My Colouring Book, and of course, IJDKWTDWM, among others. Th the back is interesting and I will post it in the not too distant future.

Thanks for your interest in my modest Dusty stuff, be it ever so humble I guess we are all proud of our Dusty shrines.

Hi Kathy

Wow Kathy, that's an awesome collection, im massively jealous of how many LP's you have!! The Evrythings Coming Up Dusty one is wikkid, i that photo was on the cover before.

But i have to say that i like the orange and pink WAIG cover better than the green, it still looks good though 😊

Definitely a nice collection there Kathy 🍀

That's interesting to know Tim, unfortunately it is the mono version, but its academic as its not for sale! 🙄 Thanks for your kind comments, M and Clare. Yes Clare, most of the LP's (about 10) are Pam's bought at the time they came out except the It Begins Again LP shown in the phc have that one, but I bought another from the US as the cover is much better, not only is the cover embossed, but there is an internal cover signature of Dusty inside (seen in the picture), which was not available with the Aussie version. I still have a phono to play them and put the time to time. Maybe one day I'll transfer them to CD, crackles an all! 🎧

Oh and did you spot that the signed photo of Dusty is an original signature? Unfortunately the dedication is not to me, but hey an actual sign Dusty's is special.

Here, in part is what appears on the back of the Album cover that Nancy asked about:

Ask a stupid question, and she invariably gives a far-out answer:

"What luxury would you want most?"

"All of Twentieth Century Fox musicals: I could sit in bed, push a button and get any movie I wanted."

"What was your greatest handicap in starting out?"

"My face and middle-class background. The upper and lower classes are uninhibited; the middle-class are too restricted."

"If you had to do it all over again, would you do it any differently?"

"That's a question for Marlene Dietrich. Come back in fifty years."

She likes the glory of her career but hates work. She has an aunt who works unglamorously in social work, her father works for the income tax her brother writes, she lives on a dull street (Baker Street) and loves flying and arriving at places, particularly Rome and New York. She has been described as "hip" and "in". She is.

She never seems to be the same for there is a constant element of the unexpected about her. She comes on stage simply dressed (sic) looking like a cool jazz singer, but her voice is unexpectedly husky in the manner of the "belter".... As a singer she wants to keep developing, "I don't want to be an entertainer doing a lot of silly things on stage like wearing hats and dancing." and "I want to sing songs I like and make other people like them" (LP jacket quote)

You have Dusty and you do!

That was an interesting read, Kathy.

I've always found it interesting how Dusty refers to the 20th century Fox musicals--I want to explore that more--I think that included Shirley In the US we often think of MGM as having the great musicals....or maybe theirs just have gotten more publicity from the retrospective films them.

Anyway, that was Tom who commented to you, not Tim. Two different guys! 🤔

PD-193

Dusty doesn't just sing a song. She lives it. Metaphorically, she takes lyrics by the scruff of the neck, shakes them into a shape that spells sheer magic. She'd even make a nursery rhyme sound soulful.

But this new, eagerly-awaited album contains a baker's dozen of really top songs, some new, some familiar. You've heard some of them before performed by other singers. Yet here they become immediately Dusty's personal possessions, as if they were written specially for her.

That "feel" for song powers through right from the first track, Won't Be Long is a pacey number, cleverly constructed. Dusty gets right in on the wailing, punched along by her vocal group, sliding in behind a Latinish beat, La Springfield sets an immediate atmosphere of vocal excitement.

Tough-noted piano, hustling cymbals . . . and into Oh No! Not My Baby, written by that prolific husband and wife team, Gerry Goffin and Carole King. It's a simple chorus structure. But in between times Dusty digs deep at the heart of the song, with a dramatic moment as the strings zing in.

Dusty likes to hear plenty going on behind her. She uses her stage backing-group, the Echoes, but massively augmented under the skilful direction of Ivor Raymonde. There's usually special emphasis on drummer Johnny Dryden. Dusty feels 'specially comfortable' with him laying down the beat.

And you can almost hear Dusty's admiration forcing through on Long After Tonight Is All Over — admiration for the ballad-appeal of Burt Bacharach and Hal David. Happily sentimental, this one — and it switches the mood. But not for long. Dusty regards La Bambo as a speciality of the House of Springfield. Latin rhythms, peppered with Congo drum, and a massive pow-pow-pow by way of finale from the trumpets. Everybody is obviously having a ball. To keep your feet from tapping, you'd have to stomp them to the floor.

Another switch of mood for Who Can I Turn To? A straight ballad . . . maybe the best yet from the Leslie

Side 1:

1	Won't Be Long	J. Leslie McFarland
2	Oh No! Not My Baby	Goffin/King
3	Long After Tonight Is All Over	Bacharach/David
4	La Bambo	Traditional
5	Who Can I Turn To?	Bricusse/Newley
6	Doodlin'	H. Silver/J. Hendricks

Side 2:

1	If It Don't Work Out	R. Argent
2	That's How Heartaches Are Made	Holley/Raleigh
3	It Was Easier To Hurt Him	Ragovoy/Russell
4	I've Been Wrong Before	R. Newman
5	I Can't Hear You	Goffin/King
6	I Had A Talk With My Man	B. Davis/L. Coston
7	Packin' Up	M. Hendrix

Dusty Springfield
With the Augmented Echoes and accompaniment directed by Ivor Raymonde.
The album produced in London by John Franz.

A long-playing record needs very careful handling. Prevent damage by ensuring that you use the correct stylus, that the stylus is not worn, and that the surface of the disc is regularly cleaned. For this purpose we recommend the PHILIPS ANTI-STATIC DISCLEANER. Do not touch the grooves with the finger and avoid exposure to heat and dust. This record should be played at 33 1/3 rpm.

Made and distributed in Australia by PHILIPS ELECTRICAL PTY. LTD.

Best song on the album IMHO is I've Been Wrong Before. I know I'll probably get some flak on that from the "I had a Talk with my Man" devotee like stirring. 🙄

Clare, that is an amazing amount of Dusty stuff. You have a great shrine. I notice Tamsin crept in there, but I guess she has earned her place she's the one who led you to Dusty! Anyway, how lovely to be surrounded by Dusty when you drop off to sleep and when you wake up in t Sweet Dreams!

Oh wow, thanks guys! I didn't think people would think very much of it but there ya go! My dad is very touched by everyone's comments as I realise how important it was to me and he appreciates the comments you have made 😊 So looks like if I ever need a shelf again, I'll get it asap

Yep Kathy, Tamsin had to make her way onto my Dusty wall, she bloody well deserves it as far as I'm concerned 😊

There was a record fair in one of my local towns today and I managed to spend £15 and come away with these few :

Also a friend of mine was out shopping last weekend when I was away and turned up with these LPs cos she thought I'd like them! Unfortunately I already have them both so if anyone out there wants either of them give us a shout.. they were £3.00 each!

I'd love the left one if it could be sent to America without costing an arm and a leg. If you go to the London meetup tomorrow, you could give to pass on to me. I'm sure she'd fork over the 3 quid! 🍷

Sorry I've not responded earlier but I've not been overly well - keep getting terrible headaches, dizziness and fainting spells and am having all tests done to find out what's going on so I've not been at my best!

I wonder how easy it would be to send an LP to the States without it arriving in a thousand little pieces... I know what the postal service is I you like me to give it a go and see what happens or hang onto it until something else can be arranged?

And just to double check, it's this one yeah?

Bev, sorry to hear you have not been well. Hope all the tests turn out ok for you. Let us know how it goes. 😊

I've had LPs sent to me (Dusty ones of course 😊) from the US to OZ and they arrived in excellent condition. They were tightly packaged in c and sent airmail with the usual do not bend stickers on them. They were only moderately expensive to send, about $12-15 US I recall. 😊

Matt, go and have a blood test, you may have the "kissing disease" 🙄 Seriously, hope you are ok Matt. If you are a little down that can make tired. While you are home from school turn to the Aussie Slang section and learn a new language. 🙄

Matt, you should get the possibility of glandular fever checked out. If not treated it can leave you with heart problems and you don't want th stuff around, do it-- it only requires a blood test! 😊

Do go to the "quacks" Matt...if it's mono, it can damage more than your heart, as if that's not bad enuf.

Love the 2nd advert especially. Very nice acquisitions.

Matt, I had Glandular Fever for such a long time and if you don't get it checked out and rest for like ages then it can turn to Chronic Fatigue, something you really don't want. Sorry to be so off topic, but you really cannot ignore this. It's a b*tch of a disease to get.

I love it, Kathy. It's nice how they used that less well known pic of Dusty. I also think the few sentences describing her are spot on.

How large is it and where did you get it?

I spotted this type of thing in a framing/picture shop in Wollongong. (half way from my place to Sydney) There were versions with U2, The Be etc etc. I flipped through all the pictures but there was no Dusty. So I asked if there was a Dusty one (I thought I had seen one on eBay sor before). The people (who were Arabs) wanted to know if she was a Country singer! (only occasionally lol!) Anyway, I had to order it sight u put a deposit on it wondering if I might get Dolly Parton or Loretta Lynn! So I uttered a great sigh of relief when it actually was Dusty. The about 23 inches across and 19 down and was fully framed as seen here. The CD things in it are full size so that should give you some idea! It was good value for $65 Aussie dollars which is around $US50.
