

The Archives of Let's Talk Dusty!

Home | Profile | Active Topics | Active Polls | Members | Search | FAQ

Username: Password: [input fields] Login

Save Password Forgot your Password?

All Forums

- Let's Talk Dusty! The Forum
Getting It Right
Dusty and superstitions

Forum Locked Topic Locked
Printer Friendly

Author

Topic

hidrogirl
I start counting

Posted - 28/01/2007 : 15:51:40

Spain
38 Posts

I asked myself about Dusty, was she superstitious? I see her dressed in yellow, and the yellow always was associated with bad luck. I known that artists wear amulets and talismans and I still asking about if she had a habit or ritual before she go out to the stage... or if she had a tarot reader for example.. Thanks

I got confused, and I post this in "Don't Forget About Me", sorry for double post

Maria Luisa

allherfaces Administrator
5 stars

Posted - 28/01/2007 : 15:53:58

Very interesting question!

"Yesterday's gone. Love lead me on."
~Roll Away

USA
14235 Posts

MattMidd1
I've got a good thing
5 stars

Posted - 28/01/2007 : 17:38:24

United Kingdom
4270 Posts

I think she kinda was - she wore a giant cross in the late 60s and early 70s.

Matt.

allherfaces Administrator
5 stars

Posted - 28/01/2007 : 19:26:17

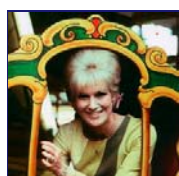

Are you suggesting she was warding off vampires?

"Yesterday's gone. Love lead me on."
~Roll Away

USA
14235 Posts

Mark
I've got a good thing
5 stars

Posted - 28/01/2007 : 19:30:30

I was always under the impression that 'Green' was a colour that superstitious persons avoided wearing?....(are there any photos of Dusty in green?)

I'm interested to learn wether Dusty was superstitious or not though, we need a few of our experts here!

Mark

United Kingdom
5309 Posts

MattMidd1

I've got a good thing
★★★★★

Posted - 28/01/2007 : 19:33:54

yep

United Kingdom
4270 Posts

Matt.

karenina

Little by little
★

280 Posts

Posted - 28/01/2007 : 22:20:09

Well by chance I just read an article on the mbyaley site which seems to say alot about Dusty's spiritual beliefs towards the end (But Id still like Simon Bell to answer my question). I was brought up Catholic and am quite superstitious but I dont know if the two are related. Supertitions are also part of obsessive disorders like I have to knock on wood seven times before I go to bed.Apparently more accidents happen to green cars.

karenina

Little by little
★

280 Posts

Posted - 28/01/2007 : 22:30:24

...and it says she also liked the call of the loon which now explains why she may have attached herself to me.

Mads

Where am I going?
★★★

Posted - 29/01/2007 : 06:33:31

I know she always walked UNDER ladders because she felt a need to be different to everyone else. I'll find the quote hahaa

Australia
3323 Posts

insomniacafe

I'll try anything
★★

Posted - 29/01/2007 : 08:57:53

That's funny, I always do that too. But that's because I think a ladder is more likely to fall backwards and crush the people walking behind it, than fall straight down and hit me walking under it. ;)

Netherlands
1509 Posts

MattMidd1

I've got a good thing
★★★★★

United Kingdom
4270 Posts

Posted - 29/01/2007 : 09:44:06

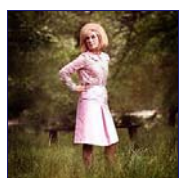

no because the ladder will slide across the floor and come crashing down on you.

Matt.

insomniacafe

I'll try anything
★★

Posted - 29/01/2007 : 11:15:01

Depends if the person falling is on top of the ladder or not, and where the force that causes it to fall is being applied from. If the person is at the top of the ladder it will more than likely fall back due to the weight imbalance. If someone knocked the ladder over from behind it (i.e. where superstitious people walk), it would slide forward a little way towards the wall, and then it's weight would tip it back as it lost balance. The only way it could fall forwards and down would be for a force to be applied away from the wall at the bottom - i.e. where I'm standing. And I'm not going to push some poor sod off a ladder, especially when it will injure me in the process. :)

Netherlands
1509 Posts

Either way, none of these scenarios has emerged in my day to day life yet ;) Which is a shame, because at least I wouldn't feel like I wasted 5 years of my life studying physics. :P

Edited by - insomniacafe on 29/01/2007 11:18:52

MattMidd1
I've got a good thing
★★★★★

Posted - 29/01/2007 : 11:52:37

United Kingdom
4270 Posts

okay... I see what you mean. I've only ever walked past a ladder once in my life.

Matt.

karenina
Little by little
★

Posted - 29/01/2007 : 12:15:30

280 Posts

but what about the paint pot or paint falling on top of you and what if its green paint? g2g to do some tiling hopefully without the need of a ladder

insomniacafe
I'll try anything
★★

Posted - 29/01/2007 : 12:26:08

Ah...I hadn't thought of that Karenina. Maybe some sort of industrial strength umbrella is in order ;) Good luck with the tiling - there's a job that's hard to relish.

Netherlands
1509 Posts

karenina
Little by little
★

Posted - 29/01/2007 : 14:14:32

280 Posts

I couldnt score - I obviously havent got the right equipment. It is really frustrating especially as I read my horoscope and it said I would be very upbeat get things done and would be strong. Theres another thing I dont know why I continue to read those stupid things. Does anyone know if Dusty did?

Gypsy Rose Lee
I'll try anything
★★

Posted - 29/01/2007 : 14:23:55

USA
1535 Posts

When I knew Dusty back in the day, she was a very proud Aries and never hesitated to let you know it. 😊 However, everyone was into Astrology back then so who knows?

I always joked with her that if she had just waited a few more days, she could have been a proud Taurus - like me!!! 🤪 Her reply to that is unprintable 😳... haha.. saucy girl. 🤪

Love,
Ro 😊

reng36
I start counting

Posted - 29/01/2007 : 17:55:55

89 Posts

Does anybody know if/how Dusty Celebrated St. Patrick's Day?

Renge 36

Mark
I've got a good thing
★★★★★

Posted - 29/01/2007 : 22:30:56

quote:

United Kingdom
5309 Posts

Originally posted by Gypsy Rose Lee

I always joked with her that if she had just waited a few more days, she could have been a proud Taurus - like me!!! Her reply to that is unprintable... haha.. saucy girl!

Love,
Ro

LOL!.....I'm a proud Taurus!

I'd liked to know what Dusty's reply was.....go on....we're all, ahem,....adults here!!

Mark

karenina
Little by little
★

280 Posts

Posted - 29/01/2007 : 23:12:06

Oh I thought you were an Aquarius and now I am totally confused. My head kept telling me to say something about goats and rhinos but I just couldnt fit it into any thread and it just seemed too random.My best friend is a Taurean and I just wish she was...

hidrogirl
I start counting

Spain
38 Posts

Posted - 31/01/2007 : 21:24:59

I think that she would read her horoscope every day in the newspaper, everybody does it

Maria Luisa

MattMidd1
I've got a good thing
★★★★★

United Kingdom
4270 Posts

Posted - 31/01/2007 : 21:39:35

yeah... sure we do...

Matt.

karenina
Little by little
★

280 Posts

Posted - 01/02/2007 : 10:57:14

The catholic religion is steeped in superstition and ritualism eg when you go to confession you have to repeat three hail marys etc. Once a Catholic always a catholic so they say and I seem detined for Hell.

dusty_freak
I've got a good thing
★★★★★

Australia
5805 Posts

Posted - 01/02/2007 : 13:35:31

quote:

Originally posted by hidrogirl

I think that she would read her horoscope every day in the newspaper, everybody does it

Maria Luisa

I read mine in Cosmo every month, but clearly they lie to me coz nothing comes true!

Clare xoxo

"I'm not Mama's little baby no more..."

Topic

Forum Locked Topic Jump To: Select Forum

Locked

 Printer Friendly

The Archives of Let's Talk Dusty! © 2006-2009 Nancy J. Young, Laura Howard, Rob Wilkins, Corinna Muller

Powered by Snitz.com