Has anyone thought of making a Dusty calender? I'd love one but I can't make one 😞 I think it would be good if someone made one. I'd love to buy one 😊

It would cost a fortune to have a calendar produced professionally Matt. The Kiki Dee site did have a calendar a couple of years ago which you could print off (12 pages) Just twelve photos of Kiki with the month printed below. Any volunteers for 2008.

I can look into this... Small calendars can be done somewhat inexpensively.

There are also the type of calendars that have only one picture and the months rip off.

And yes, I've seen ones like Tom talks about, files you can print off the computer.

Good project to look into.

Matt if you just mean making one for you they are on most photo disks for the computer. I always make mine, they have four pictures for each month so you have to come up with 48 photos. The expense comes with the printing cartridge and NO sorry I am not volunteering 😞. Did you see the extra piccies on the TYLS thread yet? 😊
