Dusty's Autograph

■ by Kate » Thu May 04, 2017 5:51 pm

Hi everyone.

I would like advice if that is okay.

When I was younger I collected autographs of my favourite singers/actors etc.

I was thrilled to bits when I was given a signed Dusty photograph, (obtained by my older cousin) that was dedicated to me.

This was my absolute favourite and it had pride of place on the front page of my photo/autograph album.

When I was in my teens, someone that I knew, took the album and sold it. This was done out of spite and as you can imagine I was devastated.

I have now decided that for my 60th birthday I want to treat myself to an autographed Dusty photograph. I know that they are expensive but what the heck, it's worth it. I am however extremely worried that any said autograph may be fake.

Does anyone have any advice on the best course of action?

PS At long last I visited Dusty's marker at St Mary's Church, last weekend. It had lovely, fresh bunches of flowers and plants around it. It was both beautiful and moving.

I would suggest if you see it online, send the link or post a picture here. Quite a few people have autographs that they could compare it with for you. She had a very distinctive signature. Good luck 😊

There's a part of you, that's a part of me...
