We all know Dusty 'covered' several American/UK recordings (9 times out of 10 better!) than the originals, but how many? I'll start the ball rolling :-

- That's how heartaches are made - Baby Washington
I can't wait until I see my baby's face - Baby Washington
I had a talk with my man - Mitty Collier
Will you love me tomorrow - The Shirelles
Mama said - The Shirelles
Anyone who had a heart - Dionne Warwick
Bring him back - Sissy (Cissie) Houston/ Stella Starr
When the lovelight starts shining thru' his eyes - The Supremes
Where is a woman to go - K T Oslin
Oh no not my baby - Maxine Brown
It was easier to hurt him (her) - Garnett Mimms
Am I the same girl - Barbara Acklin
Heartbeat - Gloria Jones
Needle in a haystack - The Velvelettes
You've really got a hold on me - The Miracles
Everyday I have to cry - Steve Alaimo
My colouring book - Sandy Stewart
You can have him - Dionne Warwick
Love power - The Sandpebbles
Another night - Dionne Warwick

There's a few to go on with!...please feel free to add to the list

There's a few more. 'Tupelo Honey' by Van Morrison for one.

I think 'In The Winter' and 'Willie Mae Jones' are Dusty originals in that they were songs that were brought to Dusty for her to record and release first. If 'Make The Man Love Me' can be counted as a true cover it was Cher who got to the post first.
