Can anyone share any facts about what were Dusty's favorite places to holiday or hang out? And why?

Well it's all right to go on and live your life, so come out into the light....

Well, we know she loved Brazil and 'Carnival' and I remember hearing many times that Rome was a favourite too. Obviously is later years Ireland and in particular her "healing place" Cregg Castle. I have a few pictures taken there that I'll post soon.

Was it the Moher Mountains that she wanted her ashes scattered? And she said many times she loved Rio.

1. 113 Baker Street (Dusty's home whilst with The Springfields)
2. General view of Aubrey Walk
3. Plaque at 38 Aubrey Walk
4. General view of Dusty's home
5. Dusty's front door!

(Apolgies if the views are a little 'big', but I daren't downsize them, as I don't have them on file, just photobucket)

Dusty loved New York. She had many friends there - Billie Jean, Nona, et al. It was not unusual to see Dusty in the shops and restaurants on Columbus Avenue.

Thanks everyone!

This is Dusty and the Springfields recording studio in the 60's, Stanhope house, the Walker brothers also recorded there, and many others who were on the Philips label. (from what I've read the recordings were in the basement, which I'm guessing was really the lower ground floor, seen above)

You're welcome Mads!.....here's a few views of venues where Dusty performed (and another of Stanhope house, when I was there I stood for a while and imagined all the lovely Dusty music being made in that room!)

1. The Royal Albert Hall
2. Stanhope house, looking at what I guess is the basement studio
3. Shepherd's Bush Empire
4. London Palladium

Yay I always wanted to see a pic of the RAH!

Do you live close to all these places Mark or do you just drive like a crazy person to all the Dusty sites you know of?!? 🤔😬

I remember the Shepherds Bush Empire from one day back in July 1967, last show, Dusty's second series. Spent a little time in the alley at the side (that happened so often back then!)waiting for the star of the show to appear. She didn't, at least not till later, but Madeline came out to keep us company. That's me, leaning on the wall, looking moody 😞

Hi Mads!...I live approx 30 miles directly to the East of Central London (where the River Thames meets the North Sea)so I tend to have a trek round London by Train on a Saturday now and again, I wouldn't drive there though, driving in London is a Nightmare!

Great to see your earlier photos again Carole!

Dusty's favourite London store; Fortnum & Mason, followed by the Ritz Hotel (back in the 60's Dusty was asked to remove her trousers on entering!)

I'm sure Dusty would have frequented the Boutiques in London's famous Carnaby Street back in the swingin' 60's!.....here's some views of it today.....and one of them! the same corner now....

(Apologies that they're a little dark, but within an hour it was pouring with rain!.....that's the British weather for you!!)

Dark? They're great! The colours in the third photo above the Lord John shop remind me of your socks Mark 😊

This was the room that Dusty used at Cregg Castle. Not exactly the Ritz, but apparently she liked it because of it's big bath! Pat saw this photo and said "I had such trouble getting her out of that bed!"
