The only footage I know is what is seen in the BBC documentary. And that is from outside the church.

Um Geordie, I think that the BBC footage Nancy is referring to is a program called Dusty Definitely, there is only a little bit of footage of the funeral but it is there and it's very sad. Very few of us fans can watch it without a tear. Have a look around for it and if you can't find it, perhaps someone here can help with a copy. 😊

On a happier note, you can purchase a DVD of Dusty's performances from 85 to 95 including her last TV live performance from Corinna for 10 GBP. Just check out the thread on Dusty 85-95 performances under Wishin' and Hopin'. All proceeds go to charity. 😊

xx

The documentary is called Definitely Dusty, and you must see it. It's a very good documentary, and at one point it was broken into pieces and put on youtube--not sure if it's still there or not.

Glad to see another Dusty-crazed fan. We're all mad about the girl around here!

Thanks very much, Frans. That was very hard to watch. 'So Much Love' is playing first off. Oh maan.. Now's a good time for me to go out into the sunshine....

Even though I didn't know about her when she died, I just can't handle thinking about it... I have to watch some Dusty videos now and think about when she was still alive instead.
