On the morning paper review on BBC News24, they held up todays' Daily Express, which has a huge photo of Dusty and the words "Free Dusty CD"... I could see 'Son Of A Preacher Man' listed before they moved on.

Anyone got it?

Picked the paper up this morning Will, and you've to send off for this. P/P is £1:99p. Theyre saying Dusty would have been 80!!!

WHAT!!!!!!!!!!!! And they are charging for it!!!! The front page said it was free. Oh that is scandalous. No doubt they will say the CD *is* free, the postage isn't. Although you can post a CD to the States for less than that. I'm really annoyed now. I feel a letter coming on..

And they said she would have been 80!! It gets worse.

Grrrr.

And they say these free CDs cheapen the music...

Certainly doesn't seem like the people putting it together gave it much thought, getting her age wrong and so on. Pretty sad stte of affairs.

Hi Cas

The One pound nintynine pence would be for the postage I suppose. CD is free.

They have got the date wrong Dusty was born in April 16th 1939. Making her seventy (70) this year not eighty (80). I am only nine months younger than her and I am not 79 for about 10 years yet. I would have loved to be there for Dusty day, but I just can't make it this year. I hope those of you that go have a wonderful time, Please give me love to Pat, Madeline and Simon if you speak to them..

Thanks Dougie..

Saw this, it was the live RAH one like last time. Just flicked through it at work... I didn't see the 80 bit! 😞

Did anyone send for this 'free' cd?
After buying the Sunday Express, I thought I should, but so far have received nothing! 😞
Anyone got theirs?

Hiya Brian 😊
My mum sent off for it for me from my gran's express without telling me and she said it hasn't arrived yet and they take about 28 days normally 😊
