That is an absolutely beautiful drawing and you have certainly captured her look and expression very well indeed... nicely done!

Very Many thanks - you are all too too kind. But you have inspired me to get on with the coloured version.

Tim I would say about 40 hours - roughly an hour a day for 5 weeks The coloured one will take much longer, but that is normal for me to spend that sort of time on every picture, and I may have 2 or 3 ongoing at the same time. I'm just a plodder really.

Again thank you all.

JUST BEING NOSEY ARE THEY ALL OF DUSTY? THAT YOU WORK ON?
MARY

I only think of the day I met Dusty and my pains go away. It's Great!

Hi Mary

You're not being noseay at all. Thanks for taking an interest.

At the moment I'm working on 2 of Dusty, 1 of my friend's mother, 1 of my beautiful granddaughter (Hollie), 2 of my grandson's Ryan and Adam, (but they will wait - as they don't care - they are young) and 3 of Elvis Presly - 1 of those is for me, as I am an Elvis fan, well who isn't. I always tell everyone they will have to wait a year, that gives me plenty of space, but I usually finish the black and white ones within 2 months and the coloured ones up to 6 months. One of my sons being a bit of a mercenary says "Mum if you had to make a living out of this, you could earn all of 10 pence an hour."

I haven't actually started all of them, just 3, but I will start another 2 next week.

Being another nit picking perfectionist, I sometimes do two or three of the same one, (not 47 takes, just 3). The thing is I find nobody knows the difference except me.

Best wishes
WENDY

WONDERING IF YOU HAVE EVER SEEN DUSTY OR ELVIS IN CONCERT. I SAW ELVIS IN 72 DUSTY IN THE 80'S... CAN'T WAIT TO SEE ELVIS. MARY

Hi Mary - no, I never had the pleasure of seeing either of them. I believe Elvis only set foot on these shores once at the airport, then got straight back on the plane and went home again.

I was talking to my next door neighbour a couple of days ago, as he came in to see the picture. When I was trying to photograph it in the garden, his wife saw it, so he popped in. I have been living next door to him for 25 years and I didn't know he was a Dusty fan. He told me he had gone to see her at the Colston Hall in Bristol where I live, back in the 60's I guess, and he has been a fan ever since.

Only just seen this Wendy and it is a lovely drawing, you have captured lots of Dusty's features and brought to the picture a style of your own.
