Hi Wend,
I've watched the bottom one growing as you worked on it, I'm in awe of how you accomplish this.

Both pics are just wonderful, I saw the unfinished version of the top one at your home, and these photos simply do not in anyway do them justice!
If I had to chose between them I'd say the top one was my favourite at the moment, brilliant
Very well done.

I start counting

I wasn't going to bother logging on this morning but just had to so I could add my congratulations to Wendy - absolutely brilliant and the first one is one of my most favourite images - in fact I did a pencil drawing of that pose in the sixties which Dusty autographed for me!! I have unearthed it from the roofspace and will now try to photograph it and post it if I can. Now that I'm retired I must try my hand again - what medium do you use for these coloured pictures Wendy?

Thanks to everyone, and that would be great Henry if you could find that autographed drawing and put it on. We all look forward to seeing it. Great stuff.

I just use ordinary coloured pencils, like the kids use Henry, and for the black and white ones it is just 2B and HB generally.
