MemphisInLondon correctly noted that I'm on my "Dusty Journey" - I'm always finding new stuff about Dusty that I should have found long ago. One thing I've found is that Dusty had the unique ability to take other artists' songs and make them better. I saw in the D.S. Bulletin's list of her albums, that she recorded "I'll Never Find Another You" - the old Seekers hit. I've always loved that song since Sister Mary Joan played it for us in 8th grade in Catholic school (talk about a Dusty reference!) circa 1964. I also didn't know that her brother Tom wrote that song. I tried to download Dusty's version but couldn't. I'm just guessing that Dusty singing that song has to be phenomenal. Anyone ever heard this one?

Don't think I have....didn't Tom also put together that group, The Seekers, after the Springfields split up? Another two guys and a gal group, with the gal with a strong voice like Dusty's. Hmmmmmm.

Michael,

You can get the track in a Dusty medley of Seekers songs on the 'Heart and Soul' album. I'll Never find Another You/Georgy Girl/A World of Our Own - all written by Tom I think. Maybe this is on download by now from Amazon.

Tom didn't actually put the Seekers together, I think the story is that they were on the same bill as Dusty in Blackpool and she made the introduction to Tom. He then went on to write or arrange many of their hits.

"The Carnival Is Over" is one of my all time favourite songs.

And cheers Josh - you just saved me having to put the file up :)
