Wonderful, arguably the best TV performance of Dusty's career.

This song is a real treat - heart wrenching and utterly beautiful with some truly wonderful and melancholy lyrics. Pure gold and pure Dusty.

And in the DVD the close ups! Oh the close ups! Actually Neil and I love this song--as he said before it's "our" song. 😊 I love it. What I especially like is Dusty's timing/phrasing, it is just perfect!

This song is on my 'Dream EP'. 🤔 The whole thing is beautiful.

Am I right in thinking that The Drifters originally recorded this song ?

I'm sure I have it on an album, somewhere.

Did you know that Jerry Wexler co-wrote the Song with someone called Bert Berns?.. 😊

I didn't, 'til now.. 😊😊

Its always been one of my favourites too, a very emotional song, wonderfully performed by Dusty.

The first time I saw this clip (other than when it was shown in the 60's), was at the first of the Dusty evenings at the National Film Theatre in 1999. I can't tell you how effective those close ups were on the big screen, fair took your breath away, I'll never forget seeing it. For me, it's one, if not THE, highlight from her first series and you have to wonder if it was one of the (100 or so) songs Jerry Wexler suggested to Dusty for Memphis. If it was, what a pity. Still, I'm sure she couldn't have produced a studio recording more heartfelt than this. The Drifters did record it btw.

Hm.. I didn't know that, must go and look for it, because it's such a great song, whoever does the singing. I think Mozart wouldn't have been ashamed if he were accused of having written it...😏

The song is great..the video is great ..excellent camera work done on this and of course, the voices are great.

Josh..if you have just heard this , you must think about picking up 'Dusty Springfield, Live At the BBC'..released in 07. It is full of treasures such as this one (though this one is at the top of my list)
