I think I'm right in saying that this song was one of the faves from the BBC dvd. I definitely know it was my fave.

The song is from 'Love Me Or Leave Me' and is sung here by Doris Day.

How d'ya think it compares?

Unsurprisingly, I prefer Dusty's version, I LOVE it!

My Mam was a Doris Day fan, and so I grew up with these songs, and I like Doris too, but as usual Dustys version is the one I prefer.

well yes I love them both. I think Doris Day is fantastic and I love most of her songs. Dusty is always my fav though as I am too biased to bring her in as anything but first.

Yes Carole R - this is one I remember hearing when the original shows were transmitted and I have always wished so much that Dusty had actually gone into the recording studio for it (and the other standards she sang live!). "I'll never stop loving you" is one of my favourite songs and I love the "Dambusters" intro which adds to the drama of the performance. I can watch this video clip over and over and always find something in it I hadn't noticed before whether in the performance, Dusty's hand movements, lighting or stage-set effects! I almost hesitate to say I also have the Doris Day version on cd (but it is my wife's cd, not mine and not a patch on Dusty's live version!)

I know it's a Doris song but I only ever think of it as a Dusty song for the reasons I've given before....the old tapes 😊 Along with To Love and Be Loved, it's a stand out big ballad from her TV shows and although it would have been wonderful to hear a studio recording of the song, I doubt she could have done it better.

I have DD's version but for sheer power, emotion and vocal excellence Dusty is sheer magic, This is my favourite from the TV series but I also like The Mood I'm In.again I have heard this by many others but Dusty's phrasing is sheer class.

An excerpt from Dusty's track plays over and over when you have the BBC DVD menu on. I heard it so many times the night I played this DVD for the first time that I fall at it's feet nowadays. Dusty is so great. What else is there to do?

The Doris version is fine. It's not a full performance. Dusty may have sung like this in the same kind of scene. Then the movie would cut to the full performance. Doris doesn't. Yes, she does! Listen to Doris in the recording studio:

It's just a great song by Dusty and Doris. Of course I prefer Dusty.

I grew up listening to Doris Day and love her voice. She does a wonderful take on the song in the context of the movie scene. But-nobody can do a song like Dusty. She makes it so big!
