😊 I just finished Carole Pope's bio Anti-Diva. 😞

When you're panning for gold you have to sift through a lot of dirt before you come up with a single nugget. Once Dusty took her to the exotic wild life way station. She tells how Dusty "talked" to a tiger with her cat noises, and it approached her so that she could stroke it. ➡

Those few sentences were the most value I found in the book. 🌹

There's more, but nothing that Dusty would have wanted written about herself nor nothing that gives much insight into Dusty. If you're a Carole Pope fan, you might enjoy it. I am not.
