Lookalike Surely?

Hi, This has been bugging me for ages. 😞 On the cover of a Japanese single release Windmills Of Your Mind/Just One Smile there's a photo of a very pretty girl who obviously had Dusty features, but I maintain it isn't Dusty. 😞 I have a Dusty friend who feels it isn't her either, but others who love Dusty who believe it to be the One And Only. Any Thoughts Please. 🙏🙏🙏

Looks like Dusty to me Darren. I would love to hear others opinions too. 😊👍

There are a few photos out there that don't look like Dusty to me. This is one of them. Though, the rest of her body looks like Dusty. Maybe this is why she always wanted to be photographed from the same side. She knew when/where she looked her best.

Thanks Lynn & Di. 🙏👍 That's 50/50 then. I should ideally have put this in the poll section, but too late now. 😞
However, if anyone wants to vote 🙏

Yes This Is Dusty.

No This Isn't Dusty

Maybe, It Could be Dusty

Just Reply Yes, No or Maybe, and I Will count the votes up, Unless anyone has any evidence or opinions that are conclusive either way. 😞

I wouldn't go that far, this image gets a 'maybe' from me. It might be the teeth, I don't know.

Same thing applies to this picture:

Up till my dying day I'm not entirely convinced that this is the girl I know and love!

Agree with you Frans on this one too! Compare this photo to Darren's. Dusty had work done to her nose and teeth over the years, correct? That surely would change your looks somewhat.

yes and yes votes from me.

Seen other pictures of her in the top she's wearing in Windmills...and the Japanese pics always look a bit different, for some reason. In the bottom pic, I see what you mean about the teeth but I think it's just a the light or whatever. The yes are definitely Dusty's.

When I first became a superfan, I couldn't reconcile that all the pics of Dusty were actually her, especially those after the 60s. Her look was so iconic, that changes in hair and makeup especially really threw me off.

Yes yes from me too.

Definitely Dusty 😊

Yes from me too, on both counts. Dusty had beautiful teeth, right from the beginning. Do we know if she actually had "several" nose jobs, other than the one which was forced upon her in the '80s. I personally can't see much difference.

Yes, it's Dusty. Just not a very good photo but I've never had any doubt. Here she is in the same dress.

Thanks everyone. 🌟👍👍 That seems very unanimous, and the evidence of the Dress (Nancy & Carole 😊) would seem to be the clincher-so I'm prepared to accept your verdict. 😊 but personally, out of all of what I would say are the 'contentious' photos of Dusty, for me this will always be my How Can I Be Sure? 😊

Frans, for me on your CD pic the eyes look like Dusty's, but maybe something's not quite right there . 😊 😊

I'd say yes to both too 😊

I too found it hard to believe that some of the photos of Dusty post 60s were the same person as her 60s look was so iconic. It really does fascinate me how somebody can look so different throughout the varying stages of their life.

These pics are def Dusty.

As to her nose just compare side views of her face from the 60's s late 70's.

The end of her nose was shortened and made more round and less pointed.

I think the nose job was purely cosmetic.....she always hated her nose.

There is a pic of Dusty, which annoying I cannot find, where she looks like Diana, It is in b/w in half light from the rhs of her face , her head slightly inclined in a pensive mood. I'm sure someone knows which I mean. It reminded me so much of Diana.

Yep-- it looks like Diana, a lot to do with the nose. Thanks Darren for the little trip down memory lane from the collage thread. 🙌

I'd say it was her, she has such a unique face shape and bone structure, it would be difficult to find such a good lookalike!

I see what you mean though, Darren.

Hi Everyone,

Greetings from Western Canada. Ive never belonged to any kind of a Forum before, so don't know what I'm doing. I am thrilled at having found you all, finally having others to talk to about my favourite woman singer of all time..our beloved Dusty.

I have been pouring over all the past posts, ravenous at suddenly all this new (to me) info and pics. To be honest, I have been moved to tears, knowing I have finally found others that love Dusty and her timeless music.

One question...are there Dusty calendars available over there, both past, present or future? I ask because I am a printer, and because there are no "legal" calendars available, I produce my own, which I either sell at cost, but usually give away. This year I produced Buddy Holly, Hank Williams, Stevie Ray Vaughan, and Bobby Fuller editions.

I have always wanted to do one for Dusty, but there aren't fifteen quality images that I have ever found, so I am hoping maybe next year the charm.

I hope these thoughts actually get out to all to see, so can you please let me know.

Rave On,

Barry

Hello Barry and welcome to our little Dusty world! Glad you found us! 🤗

Members of the forum have made calendars in the past, and they were very popular. So if you feel like making a Dusty calendar for 2015, that would be awesome! 🤗

Sounds good to me Barry.

We have a lot more members now, I think it would be popular.
