Hello. Since getting myself an internet radio I've been listening to many great oldies stations and one in particular has played the above song a few times. I've been trying to identify the Dusty album it comes from (if, indeed, it's on an album) but with no luck.

Can anyone assist me in finding this excellent version of the song?

Thanks in advance.

Hi Alexander,

I'm not familiar with Dusty singing this song. Maybe you mean Jackie DeShannon? 😊

This youtube clip erroneously credits Dusty as singing here:

put a little love ..... dusty ♥

Or maybe you are thinking of Lulu's cover?

Lulu - Put A Little Love In Your Heart

Dusty never recorded the song...don't think she sang it live either.

Well now, thanks for the replies. A strange one this. The web would certainly have us believe that Dusty did this song:

<http://www.google.co.uk/search?hl=en&ne ... 10.15.7122>

and so would last.fm:

<http://www.last.fm/music/Dusty+Springfi ... Your+Heart>

Clearly, though, her fans would know best so I'll accept your word that she's not done it. It'd be interesting to know how the association came about.

On my radio, track title and artist are shown, that's why I thought it was Dusty. The Jackie DeShannon version is probably the one I heard.

Thanks again.

Yes, Alexander this kind of thing can be confusing!

It was the same thing for me when I searched "Dusty Springfield - downtown" on Google. With all the results, I thought she recorded it. With the book "The Complete Dusty Springfield" by Paul Howes I saw she didn't recorded it and all she sang about this song was the first line in "The Anne Murray Special".

😊 Dusty's friend & associate Kiki Dee recorded the song for Motown in 1969: I don't think it was released prior to the deluxe edition of her Love Makes the World Go Round album in 2005. Clodagh Rogers & Cilla Black also recorded the song as did cult-fave Britgirl Samantha Jones. No Youtube clips alas!

Thanks again to you all. I've now got myself a copy of the Jackie DeShannon version and it IS the one I heard on the radio. While searching for it, I came across a version by another of my favourite singers, Sandy Posey.

Not that much different from Jackie's but good to have.

Oh, I don't know about that. This is a well laid out forum, I'll be back now and again.

I guess it's fair that Dusty gets credit with Put A Little Love In Your Heart on the internet, since you can find a lot of sites that claim Janis Joplin did Son of a Preacher Man.

Now let's start a rumor that Jackie Deshannon did Piece of My Heart and everyone'll be even.
