Dusty got a mention today on Lorraine Kelly's show. Hosted by Denise Van Outon there was a feature on false eye lashes where they showed a nice pic of Dusty and played IOWTBWY and said what an influence she was in the 60s

Thats nice that Dusty was remembered, and yes she was a huge influence on the 60s.

I've seen a couple of articles recently about false eyelashes and they've mentioned Dusty in both. One said ... "And it seems the smoky-eyed look associated with 70s beauty queens such as Sophia Loren and Dusty Springfield is making a comeback". I'm sure Dusty would have been very delighted to have been considered a 70's beauty queen 🙏
