I guess we'll never know whether all Dusty's songs have been released or even found yet, there always seem to be new ones popping up that are a surprise. Two examples of this are Midnight Sounds (which was a prize in our last raffle), which was released on acetate, given to Fred Perry (Dusty's lighting director) and found in his effects after he passed away. It was made available to DSB and through them to fans. The other recent example is the release on Pet Clark's Duets album Corner of the Sky in which Pet sings with Dusty on an incomplete track she laid down in the early to mid 70s. It actually completes the 10 songs on the Elements/Longings Album which was never released from 1974. A number of the songs on this unreleased album can be found on various compilation tracks and it took 25 to 30 years for them to surface again. The 10 songs that make up the Element's/Longings album are:

- Exclusively for me
Turn Me Around
In the Winter
I am Your Child
A Love Like Yours
Home to Myself
Make the Man Love Me
Angels
Beautiful Soul
Corner of the Sky

I'd be happy to make the Elements/Longings CD available for members at the same price as the other CD's with proceeds to charity if people would like to send Nancy $10 or Rob 5 GBP. [smiley icon]

Hi Josh -

This may be of use to you if you are trying to build up your Dusty collection..

A former member of the forum used to make CDs for Dusty Day and he often managed to dig up rare and unreleased tracks from all sorts of sources. He also produced CDs of general Dusty music as well as the more obscure recordings. If you take a wander over the the Wishin' And Hopin' section of the forum, you'll see a number of those CDs for sale, with all proceeds going to charity.
