

The Archives of Let's Talk Dusty!

Home | Profile | Active Topics | Active Polls | Members | Search | FAQ

Username: [input] Password: [input] Login

Save Password

Forgot your Password?

All Forums

Let's Talk Dusty! The Forum

Getting It Right

"My first lover was black"

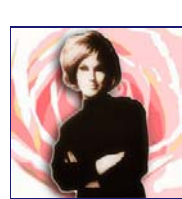

Forum Locked Topic Locked

Printer Friendly

Author

Topic

allherfaces Administrator

USA 14235 Posts

Posted - 03/12/2006 : 17:56:12

Does anyone know off hand the source (or a source) where Dusty is quoted as saying, I believe in Henley, that she shocked some matrons by declaring that her first lover was black, but that she didn't think they were ready to hear it was a woman.

(I may not have it quite right; please correct me if I am wrong.)

Thanks,
10 o'clock scholar

Corinna Forum Admin

Sweden 6080 Posts

Posted - 03/12/2006 : 21:36:41

It's in DWD, Nancy, at the end somewhere.

Cor xx

allherfaces Administrator

USA 14235 Posts

Posted - 04/12/2006 : 01:36:58

LOL Corrina, right book, wrong place. After I dug around for an hour (lousy index) and read the last several chapters (cuz my friend thought this story was at the back of the book), I found it on page 64. Luckily there was another passage on the same page that I was looking to cite.

BTW, the story went that Dusty said this not to shock those at the cocktail party, but because the conversation was taking a racist turn. That's our girl!

"Yesterday's gone. Love lead me on."
~Roll Away

Mads Where am I going?

Australia 3323 Posts

Posted - 04/12/2006 : 07:44:33

Dusty seemed to know how to turn a conversation around/make it a little more interesting 😊

What a champ to admit that though, she probs copped some slack for it!!

Love,
Mads xxx

Corinna Forum Admin

Posted - 04/12/2006 : 10:42:32

I did this coz I thought you needed to re-read the last couple of chapters. Well done for finding the quote anyway. That's the spirit of a true researcher! LOL 🤪

Cor xx

Sweden
6080 Posts

 Topic

 Forum Locked  Topic Locked

 Printer Friendly

Jump To:

The Archives of Let's Talk Dusty! © 2006-2009 Nancy J. Young, Laura Howard, Rob Wilkins, Corinna Muller

Powered by SNITZ
Snitz.com Forum 2000