The new Bulletin arrived today and while I don't want to spoil things for people overseas who wont yet have received their copy, enough to say that there are the usual excellent articles, Goin' Back news from 76/77, updates on things in the pipeline and as always, wonderful pictures. The centre spread is absolutely beautiful and the cover is a stunner in colour. Paul has given me the OK to reproduce the cover here in a couple of days time. That way it hopefully wont spoil things for members still waiting for their postie to call.

I got mine in the mail today!! 🙄🙄 And i'm very pleased to hear they are revising the Complete Dusty Springfield because i never got around to buying it... the original one is at a reduced price so im wondering if i should buy that now so i can read it until the new one comes out..

I'm off to bed but first i need to finish the new issue!

It's a great reference, that's for sure! I'm citing it in a paper ATM.

I would say the current version of the 'Complete Dusty Springfield' is well worth buying pending the new one coming out - certainly at such a reduced price. I'm always referring to my copy, that's for sure.

Also, some of the pictures will change for the new edition and there are lovely pictures in the old one that would be a shame to miss. It's an absolute necessity to me, I don't know how I managed before this book 😊 I think as I said in a letter to the DSB at the time, it was the book that Dusty deserved.

Er, that'll be a yes Clare 😊 I haven't been embarassed yet by anything I've had printed in the Bulletin. I got a few "poems", for want of a better word, printed in the fan club newsletter back in the 60's, now they can make me squirm a little 🙄

Somebody (Matt I think) asked on another thread (can't remember where!) about the possibility of Paul Howes joining this forum. Whilst I agree his knowledge would be very advantageous, we do have some real Dusty experts on here who know her music so well, there's not much that between us all, we can't answer re the music, performances etc. And if anyone is a member of the DSB, then they can get their questions answered in full and in print in the Bulletin. Also, if he partakes in online forums, then it could almost make the Bulletin extinct, and I for one don't want that! I know that right now, Paul is heavily involved in updating his book and in quite a few other forthcoming Dusty projects all keeping him busy. He probably relishes the odd break from the lady 😊

Yes I must say that when I pulled it out of the plain, brown paper ...I was taken back by the big, beautiful cover! 😊

Can't really see what you're fond of, Ro... Paul sounds a little sarcastic imo. - Does anyone know if Dale Pauley or Gregg Smith really exist?

Oh, Cheeko

It was just a tongue-in-cheek(excuse the pun) comment... nothing more.

Dale Pauley or Gregg Smith do actually exist. Trust me, if Teda were going to sell those 'wedding' pictures, she would have done it years ago.

Now, that's all I'll say on this topic.
