I'll try to stop pestering everyone with these requests....soon....

but does anyone know offhand where I can find the exact quote of Dusty saying something like "I guess I do have a lot of emotion in my voice."

and/or the Tom Springfield remark that his sister couldn't convey emotion in her voice? (perhaps made before her solo career)

I think there is one in DWD where Norma or Mads said D knew exactly what she was doing with her voice....might use that one too.

With thanks,
N

This probably isn't very helpful, Nancy, but I recall hearing (or perhaps I read it) Dusty say something along the lines of "even I'm moved by my voice sometimes."

Where did I hear/read it? Maybe it was Full Circle? I shall wrack my brains this evening.

Sounds like a great quote for my paper. Let me know if you remember where it's from. : )

The quote wasn't in Full Circle, Nancy (I've just watched it). I'm sure she said it, though - it was probably on something I've seen on YouTube recently. I *will* find it - it's killing me!

The Norma quote from DWD is:

"She would know when the emotion would drop off and that's when she'd stop and start again. The emotion and the tone had to mesh. People said that she didn't know her own ability, how good she was. She knew her own ability all right, that's why it had to be perfect. She knew how to ride that rive better than any other raft in the business."

That's a great quote, Vicky. And from Norma too. I'm going to have to read DWD again. It's turning out to be one of the best reference books on Dusty - because important people in her life contributed to it. Maybe they got scared off by the initial very negative reaction but I hope they'll contribute again one day.

Thanks for your help, folks. I'll be working on this project for at least another month, so 'don't forget about me.'

Yes, Vicky, that was exactly the Norma quote I was talking about-- thanks. I was pulling some other quotes out of DWD yesterday but didn't see that one.

Prob for me with a lot of Dusty books is the lack of indexing. There will be indexings to ppl's names but just to general ideas, no not necessarily. Indexing is a bear, though.

I agree, that is a great line from Norma that you found Vicky. 😊
