The video of Dusty appearing at the Royal Albert Hall has just been reviewed on The Paul O'Grady Show (Channel4, UK).. two elderly ladies reviewed it and both gave it 10/10. They also spoke very highly of Dusty and the sheer magnificence and passion of her voice.

To be begin with, I thought one of them was Pat Rhodes, but of course it wasn't. And I ought to have said 'DVD' as opposed to 'video'. Doh. How 20th Century!

I had a text telling me something was coming on but I was at work. I like old ladies too, I have to, I'm very nearly there!

Thinking about it, what a shame that it wasn't the BBC DVD they reviewed. I love RAH but it does have it's faults, whereas the BBC shows have none. I agree with Dusty being a perfect 10 though 😊

My mother watches paul o gradys show every day. She has seen her ae because we are going away again this weekend, and she cant go trawling around the shopping malls without us, so when i asked her if she recorded it she said she didnt know it was coming on. B*cks is what i say, she knows whats coming on on every channel for gods sake, she is so mean spirited at times

...and Paul O'Grady too! I really like the guy - genuine, outspoken, a real northern accent and not a BBC-trained one. :P There's not enough of his type on TV.

I usually watch his show - disappointed that I missed the Dusty review. I do remember him mentioning on a few occasions that he loves Janis Joplin.
