Looking at the crispy brown leaves now cascading onto the grass surrounding Dusty's Marker made me realise that we must have pics of the Marker and surrounding flowers for every season of the year. '

I remember seeing the pics from the July Meetup when the grass was yellow/brown because the South East had had such a dry summer.

I also remember seeing Grahams Vid of Dustys Marker in the depths of Winter.

I was wonderin if a 'clever someone' could get Four pics together showing the Marker at each stage of the year?..

It'd be so nice to see. 😊

Yes nice idea!

I think we've covered just about every season in this thread about people's visits to Henley (from the LTD Archives):

Bet someone can copy over some pics and post here? 🙏
