Reputation [Deluxe Edition] with remixes, outtakes, etc. (#p117916)

by Kyles Beguiles » Thu Apr 11, 2013 8:12 pm

What would be the chances of Dusty fans gathering in friendly petition to either a major label (Virgin EMI) or one of the smaller reissue labels (Cherry Red, etc.) in the quest for such an item?

Reputation was her "comeback" LP which yielded several hit singles along with some interesting remixes. I know Disky issued the Reputation and Rarities compilation some 15 years ago which tacked on a few bonus tracks plus an extended mix of "In Private", but I would love to see this LP remastered and given the deluxe edition treatment... something like this:

CD1

1 Reputation 4:13

2 Send It to Me 3:56

3 Arrested by You 4:10

4 Time Waits for No One 3:05

5 Born This Way 3:49

6 In Private 4:22

7 Daydreaming 4:55

8 Nothing Has Been Proved 4:42

9 I Want to Stay Here 2:48

10 Occupy Your Mind 6:51

Bonus Tracks:

11 What Have I Done To Deserve This 4:19

12 Any Other Fool 4:24

13 When Love Turns to Blue 3:44

14 Getting It Right 3:37

(Add any other outtakes here)

(Add 7" versions of the singles here, for those that differ from the original LP mixes)

CD2 could contain the extended mixes, remixes, dubs, etc. from the various single releases... as many as an 80-minute CD will accommodate 😊

Thanks for flagging this up, Joe.

Delighted as I am to see this, I am really surprised that Cherry Red regard this as commercially viable project.

The comments at http://bit.ly/dsrece_sde (http://bit.ly/dsrece_sde) mention instrumental versions and vinyl only mixes that aren't included in the Cherry Red tracklist.

Why include a mix of "What Have I Done to Deserve This" but leave off some of the rare mixes mentioned at the link? I guess to include those mixes in the future on yet another compilation...

Also, I guess it's a given that they'll "remaster" the tracks, AKA maximise the volume and reduce the dynamic range to single digits...

Was "Reputation" an all digital recording?

Really pleased this is being released, very much as you envisaged back in 2013 Joe.

I wonder will the DVD include interview clips with Dusty that appeared on the VHS release of Reputation.

I guess probably not as they are not mentioned, but it would be nice to have them and I am sure there was unused material from the interview.

I have pre-ordered from Cherry Red (just to let anyone know that Cherry Red charge your credit card when you order,not when they dispatch.)

I'd like to know that too, smallworld. I'd love to get my hands on the master tapes and do some proper remastering myself!

Received my copy today. Happy to say that the DVD does include the short interview clips that were included between songs on the original Reputation The Videos VHS release.

These are both points I've been curious about. Anyone have older copies to compare with Reputation Deluxe?

The dynamic range value for the original CD is DR14. The same 10 tracks on Reputation & Rarities yield a value of DR12. As for the new package, another poster might offer the reading for that...

Just came back from another corner of the internet, where I learned the original 10 tracks are just a little bit louder on the new Deluxe edition. I guess I could PM the link if anyone else is interested (and it's OK with the team).

I think you may have posted the wrong review Jim. But good to see the positive review of 'Faithful' anyway 😊

Thanks for pointing this out, Carole. My only excuse is that the two reviews were next to each other in my computer files and I clicked on the wrong one. Here is the correct one. I am afraid that it has not reproduced very well, so use of the Zoom function will be necessary.

Cherry Red Records Group has published a list of its best-selling titles for the three months ended 30 September 2016. While their No 1 seller was Van Der Graaf Generator's Do Not Disturb, Dusty was in second place with Reputation: Expanded Deluxe Collector's Edition. Hopefully, this will encourage Cherry Red to consider further releases.

The full list can be found here:
