Apologies if this has been seen by you already .. I have posted it elsewhere before.

Any old way.. This is a girl group called The Cake with a very, shall we say 'groovy'? interpretation of 'You Can Have Him'..

I have to post Dustys version, to show how it should be done!...

Carole, I nearly fell off my chair laughing at Cake. Surely it had to be a joke, didn't it? Now here's my fav version by the sadly underrated Carmel McCourt & her group.

Miss 'green dress' most probably thought it was 'groovy (cool) to act in this fashion - rumour has it her mother was 'Cynthia'- Hilda Baker's friend! ("She knows, you know")

Despite this - the records great - SO 'sixties', and the backing is fabulous. Unfortunately someone left the Cake out in the rain, and it went stale 😞

And we will never have that recipe again!

Thank goodness for that eh Marty! From the looks of their faces it would appear that the 'sweet green icing is flowing down' 🙄

My oh my, where do you find all these goodies, CR? The black-haired one needs to adjust her wig, methinks. LOL

I love that fab group The Cake as Carole might remember. What a bunch of ragamuffins and such an antidote to those squeaky clean department graduates of the '60s.

Their story is of course blighted by drugs amongst other things. One of their records 'Baby. That's Me' is one of my favourites of all time. Here they are with the B-side:

Oh my! Whatever they had I'm so glad that they kept it to themselves. Awful 😞

This is truly just about the worst piece of Cake that I have ever experienced. Just what were they all thinking about? Mrs Miller, I love U
