Love that photo - thank you Cas! I really loved that performance of "I can't hear you no more" - wish that whole "Sound of Motown" programme was available on dvd. Does anyone have any influence on Dave Clark (who I believe owns the copyright on all the old Ready Steady Go tapes) so that he might make them available??

Henry

I wondered if someone like Simon or Duggie or Pat of course could get him in an armlock to make him give it all up its such a shame he wont. whats the reason for it really??

Thanks Cas, Wonderful memories, that's what she was wearing when I met her, but she wore the wig going back to the Springfield Days with the big black bow in the back. If only I had a picture of us together!:(

Having one of my sleepless nights.

Welcome Marty, was she really wearing the suit when you met her? How wonderful! I guess we all regret not having taken more pics of her, I know I do a little. Hope by now you have got to sleep!

New piccies Jonny, thank you! I got myself a Mary Quant-ish dress just like that, prompted by Dusty of course. That one in the tartan dress is how I remember her from an appearance on Granda TV, "Scene at 6.30" maybe it was then. For some strange reason, it's always stuck in my head. Maybe because I knew she was just down the road a bit! Great finds, I love new pictures!

MARTY? DO YOU REALLY THINK IT WAS A WIG BACK THEN? IT SEEMS TO ME THAT THE HAIR TIED BACK WITH A BALCK RIBBIN IS HER OWN.

Great photos folks - I just can never get enough to keep looking back on! The short wig one, above, (with the different length sleeves!) was, I think, taken when Dusty appeared on "Thank Your Lucky Stars" to promote "Some of Your Lovin'". I think she also lip-synced to "If it Don't Work Out" in that performance - anyone confirm that for me please? She would have been promoting ECUD album - in fact I think there is a photo somewhere of her wearing that dress and showing the album booklet to the producer of "Thank Your Lucky Stars". (If I find it I'll take a photo of it and pass it on to someone very helpful!)

Henry

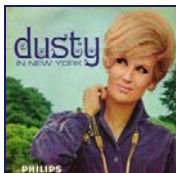

Posted - 26/11/2009 : 10:52:51

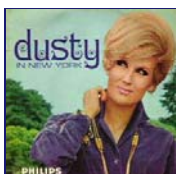

PS re above, did she wear the same dress on the Billy Cotton Bandshow when promoting "SOYL" and when she also sang "Sunshine Lollipops and Roses" - both live performances? Must check the Dusty "Bible"!!

The Archives of Let's Talk Dusty! - So...

rrr sorry should that be Sunshine Lompops and Rainbows :))) Please excuse my my memory - my advanced age due to circumstances beyond my control!

Henry

Posted - 27/11/2009 : 00:41:41

OMG I didn't notice that about the sleeves!

Carole, is the MQ dress in the 2nd photo? I had a bedspread of a similar design, and a dress with fabric in that pattern too. We called it Modrian or however you spell that painter's name.

Henry, that song was a hit here in the US, sung by Lesley Gore. Not as good as some of the other LG songs that Dusty recorded, though -- You Don't Own Me and Love Me By Name.

Henry, I know exactly which photo you mean but I can't, right now, think where it is. They are looking at an open copy of ECUD....it may be in a copy of the Bulletin. And I'd never noticed the different length sleeves before either! I don't have any memory of her wearing the dress on the telly but if she did, I'd have seen it, it's just the photo that jobs my memory. And I wouldn't like to claim it was an actual Mary Quant Nancy, but it was Quant who brought out that style.

Nancy I get the feeling you aren't familiar with Michael Ball. I know most Americans aren't, unless you follow Broadway EXTREMELY closely.

This is how I got familiar with him and have Dusty to thank. I even told Michael that when I met him. I got to see him in Blackpool with Neil, Jason and Michael G. do a concert. The next year I met him after seeing him in Hairspray on London's West End. (Don't get me started, with having my camera stolen. That picture of us together is the only thing I REALLY want back!)

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=mierCah5uQQ>

Shortly before we lost Dusty, she appeared his Christmas Eve Special. I just love them singing Ain't No Mountain High Enough together.

I wish I could make a copy of a PAL DVD of Christmas Special but I can only play PAL.
