I just came across this link but not sure if it's the whole show as there's no counter on it and I haven't time right now to watch the whole way through. Thought there may be some here who haven't seen this show.

This was never my favourite of the documentaries because of some of the 'talking heads' who I thought spouted rubbish!

Thank you Carole, I have a copy somewhere, but it'll be nice to have it to hand now!

I open this thread and think..well I have this on DVD, no need to watch..I have something else I need to get done....and then it's like I went into a trance & something else took over my hand as it was guided to the site and opened it and 48min later 🤖 I have to say after all this time I am still amazed at.....

how fabulous Dusty sings IJDKWTDWM

how amazing her voice was on that first record she ever made how melancholy and emotional I still get when the 'Memphis' bit came on with 'I Don't Want To Hear It Anymore'

how the ending still brings out the tears

thanks for posting Carole 😊

Thanks, Carole. 😊 Whenever I've tried to watch this on You Tube it always cuts out every few minutes.

I'll heed Paula's warning and save this for the weekend. If I start watching it now, I'll never get to sleep tonight.

I did the same thing as Paula. I was spellbound! Luckily I now have a 50 inch computer screen so I could check LTD at the same time!

🎵 🎵 🎵 🎵 Day dreamer ! I finally found 50 minutes to sit, and watch that link to the South Bank Show. Thanks so much ! I'd only seen it chopped up black & white on youtube. It's the first time I could see her entire duet with Mel Torme. 🌟 SUPERB 🌟

"Can't we just be friends?" Is that the correct title ? I always get that confused with "I don't think we could ever be friends". Dusty, and Mel.... that duet just slays me. 🥰

The duet with Torme is exquisite, Dusty is so comfortable and he looks so happy to be singing with her. And also we have her earlier version of Can't We Be Friends on here too, recorded with a friend when she was a teen. It's the only place it's, as yet, available and she sounds so mature. Lucky guy that has that recording in his collection 😊
