A copy of the 'Good Times' CD has just sold on eBay for the astounding sum of ONE HUNDRED AND FORTY TWO POUNDS.

It had a starting price of £9.99; I thought I might stand a chance. Erm, apparently not. I'm very glad that Dusty memorabilia generates this kind of interest but £142!!! Amazing.

I wonder if the winning bidder is among us...☺

OMG Rosie! I have to say that I'm really surprised as in these hard times folks haven't got the spare cash to spend on such items. I have a friend who works for Christies in London and they have had a record number of 'no sales' when the reserve price has not been achieved!

It is quite something isn't it John?! I'm kicking myself because there was another one up for sale a few weeks ago and that sold for £26 - which at the time I thought was too expensive! I've kept a close eye on this one, but decided not to bid when it got to about £28 - which was last night. It went up from £62 to £142 during today. Really rather fascinating to watch, especially as it was just two bidders eyeballing each other, with neither willing to give in.

The most I ever paid for a CD on eBay was about £60. Of course it's now been re-released with bonus tracks! C'est la vie.

Blimey! That's good to know as I've got a cash flow problem. But the problem is I'd never sell and I couldn't anyway as I only have a copy. I bought the original for a friend. Drat!

But why isn't Paul Howes making these CDs freely available in any case. He should.

They would most certainly sell a few hundred copies Melanie but wasn't 'Good Times' a limited edition which sold out? It would be too expensive to do another print but perhaps digital downloads would be the answer.

Humboldt

That's crazy! That's like the Legend box set! Hope you find one, Rosie, for less than that!

After reading your last post, Taylor, I did a little bit of detective work. I've just had a very interesting phone call with someone from Cadiz Music, who are the distributors for Zone Records. He says that there are plans for them to release 'some Dusty Springfield material' next year, although he didn't know exactly what.

Sounds promising. 😊

If you haven't already done it, you could always go to the 'horses mouth' and email Paul Howes on dustybulletin@aol.com He will tell you what is and isn't available through Zone. 'Good Times' was showing as still available in the last Bulletin.

That's what I thought, Carole, I just can't rustle up the last Bulletin. It's still in a box somewhere...I REALLY need to unpack.

The reason why this can't happen is that as with all Bulletin CD's, the BBC licensed the material to DSB for sale exclusively to Bulletin subscribers and not for commercial sale. All the profits then went to the Royal Marsden. Not sure whether or not you were a DSB subscriber Rosie but I'd say that this CD wont be available through Zone for the above reason.

Paul Howes has just very kindly replied to my email to confirm that this is indeed the case.

I understand of course but it's mighty frustrating to think that there are probably a few copies sitting in a box somewhere. 🤔

Rosie, do you have the Dusty Live at the BBC DVD?
The majority of the tracks on the Good Times CD are from these shows.
(I can understand you want the CD too but just to let you know.)

Posted - 09/07/2009 : 22:15:58

Hi Clive.

Yes, I do have the Live at the BBC DVD. But there are tracks on Good Times that aren't on that, as well as that stunning version of 'Since I Fell For You' with which I am ENTIRELY besotted.

Thank you for the thought all the same!

Since I Fell For You is on the "Heart and Soul" album -- not sure if it's the same version, but perhaps that may be easier to find. 😊

Hello Kathy. 🙄

I have 'Heart and Soul', but the version of 'Since I Fell For You' that reduces me to a puddle of goo (I'm sorry but there is no other way to put this!) is the Live at the Beeb version.

And Cas, you're right. My love for Dusty knows no bounds but £142 is crackers. I think this is something of an anomaly, just exceptional circumstances, or something. It's not a CD that crops up very often but when it does it doesn't go for anything like this amount.

It just became a competition between two bidders. I bet neither of them started out wanting to pay anything like this amount.

And John, thank you very much for my song - it's awfully kind of all these people to write songs for me. Bless them. I hadn't heard this one before.

Anyway, Rosie is short for something (I'm not telling you what but it's Shakespearean!) and nobody's written a song for the full version of my name. As far as I'm aware. 🙄

Anyway, the Springfields sang a song for you, and there aren't many of us who can claim that distinction. You lucky thing!

It must surely be Rosalind from As You Like It. Got it in one! I can't think of any Rosalind songs but David Bowie did record Rosalyn (a Pink Fairies cover) which is close to the name. And I used to do my Bowie impersonation to this in front of my floor length bedroom mirror!

Yes, I know!

Well done, M, you are absolutely right! And David Bowie sounds like he's singing my name, so I think I will just pretend that he is. I am, however, only addressed by my full name when I am in trouble! 😊
