Where am I going?

Hi Frances,

All I can remember was that she was on a float singing and it was a very cold day. Afraid I can't remember what song she sang.

Cas it is part of our Thanksgiving Tradition. The Macy's Day Parade has been ongoing for over 80 years. It takes place ever year in New York City and it sponsored Macy's, which is a huge department store (sort of a Harrods in New York City, but not quite as expensive). The parade consists of marching bands from around the country and often other counties, huge balloons, scenes from Broadway shows, big name entertainment and some floats. May I just you watch the film Miracle on 34th Street if you want to learn more about it.

Here is a utube link for this year's parade:

Here is a slightly Dusty related link. Christin (who may eventually play Dusty in a movie roll) performing a scene from the Broadway musical Wicked.

Not to be a stickler, but it's the Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade. Macy's doesn't have a day or parade devoted to it; they just sponsor it.

Of course I knew what you meant, Frances darling; I used to work for Macy's. I just wanted our British friends to be clear on the subject
