This might have been mentioned before, apologies if it has. 😊

The Social Network is a film about the founders of Facebook.

Whilst I wasn't overly impressed with the film, I was chuffed to bits with a little scene featuring our special place, Henley On Thames.. 🍷❤️

Nice view of St. Marys at the start, too.

Reminds me just how much I love being in Henley in the summer. Bring it on 😎 absolutely beautiful.

by coincidence I just saw the film this past weekend.

I must say I agree, Carole...I think friends had set my expectations a bit too high. Clever dialogue, good performances, but it was very abrupt...and kinda claustrophobic, if that makes any sense...

Ed mentioned this scene some time ago. Nice to see it on YouTube!

I mostly know Henley in the spring (except for last summer). 😊

I love Henley, have been in the Spring, summer and of course September 😊
I still await my lottery win to buy my luxury house there. I wish Dusty Day was held there. 😞

I've never been during the actual few days of the Regatta but have been there a few times in the days leading up to it, when everything is in place and you can watch the practice races. This was taken last year.
